

"We are not going to send anybody to your shores who is not one hundred per cent American, no matter what color his eyes, skin or hair," says Governor Wallace R. Farrington, of Hawaii, urging less red tape in the admission of Hawaiian-born Japanese to the mainland.

That is just the trouble. "One hundred per cent Americanism" is not enough. We already have other one hundred per cent Americans, who are nevertheless a problem. Some of them have been here hundreds of years, know no language but English and no institutions nor loyalty but American. But, because they have black skins and kinky hair, we have made a caste of them. Others were here ages before we came; but they have copper skins and wavy hair, so we have exterminated most of them and are segregating the rest.

This is precisely what must not happen to Governor Farrington's one hundred per cent Americans. Yet it is the only thing we know, where a race line is involved, and we are slow at learning new things. These American citizens have the legal right to come, and we have no legal right to shut them out. But if they do come, in sufficient numbers to constitute a problem, they will be presenting that problem to the one great people on earth that has never shown itself capable of meeting it justly. And they will be bequeathing to their children the consequences of their problem.

DR. MICHAEL IDVORSKY PUPIN, who has been visiting California, to make the University Charter Day address and other speeches, is not only a great scholar and a great inventor, but is also the author of a great autobiography. And perhaps the most interesting feature of that book is the account of the life of the illustrious, the culture of the uncultured, in his native village of Ivod, in far Banat. Here was a people whose history was the tales of their grandfathers; whose science was their own experience and observation, and whose wisdom was the lessons of life. But around the fireside, on winter evenings, the old men talked, the young men commented, and the children listened. There was not much knowledge of things far away, but there was deep insight into things near by. And there was a ripe, an ordered, and a reverent life.

Some of these things, our very opportunities miss. When the wayward is free, the ablest take it, and leave their duller companions to associate mostly with each other. A society unclassified in privilege tends to be over-classified in ability. Pupin's forebears, some of them, must obviously have been men of exceptional minds. But they remained illiterate villagers, contenting their first generations with the life of the neighborhood. Pupin, emigrated to America, rises to be a great scientist and a world leader. That enriches him and the world, but it impoverishes the village.

POPE PIUS declares that science, instead of denying miracles, sets them off in clearer light and sounder proof.

Blasphemy, science does more than that. It performs the miracles itself. Every wonder for which Faust sold his soul to the devil—the flying carpet, the grapes at Christmas, the wines and viands of all climates to be had at a touch, the phantasmagoria of shadow pictures, the delving to the revealing of the Time Spirit—is today a commonplace of daily life. What could Aladdin do with his lamp that we cannot do easier; what fancy of the Arabian Nights do we not realize? The healing of the sick, the raising of the apparently dead, almost the restoration of the actual dead, science performs, and even the creation of life is no longer beyond its aspiration. And to these miracles, which exhausted the imagination of the past, it adds new ones of which the past could not even dream. It sees the invisible, hears the inaudible, weighs the imponderable, spans the immeasurable, performs the impossible, and extends its view beyond the end of infinity. Science is the supreme miracle worker.

And it works no miracles at all. It merely reveals the miracles that were already there.

CONGRESS is quarreling over how drunk it is, and calling a clergyman a liar for saying that twenty-five years ago it was drunker. It might be in better business. Congress has always been composed of men very much like everybody else. In the old drinking days, some of its members drank much, some little, and some not at all. In the modern bootlegging days, some of its members obeyed the law strictly, some not so strictly, and some not at all. And doubtless some who vote dry, drink wet. Even that is not as inconsistent as it sounds. And proving it wrong does not prove that prohibition is wrong. The whole thing is a quarrel, when discussion was in order.

YOUNG people long for new things; old people prefer the familiar ones. So, when "Grandma" Henen, at Freeport, Illinois, celebrated her 100th birthday by churning butter, as she had doubtless also celebrated her tenth and fiftieth, she got more thrill out of that than she could not of the greatest and newest advances. It is well. If the old wanted the new things, they would get them. They were there first, and have the first chance. Life progresses by the ventures of youth, the prudence of maturity and the conservatism of age. We need all three in the world at once.

COST TO TAXPAYERS

Senator Howell Says Public Will Be Required to Pay $105,617,000 Loss

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—A senate inquiry into what are deemed martial hints of the Mussolini government and into the ability of each European nation to pay its war debts, is being planned by the irreconcilable board of strategy in the senate.

A motion will be made to commit the pending $2,045,000,000 Italian settlement—and perhaps the five others—to the senate finance committee, with instructions to investigate further.

The prospective vote is exceedingly close. Reference to the settlement to committee would mean its death, as far as this session of congress is concerned. The investigation could be conducted during the summer and figures showing Italy's expenditures for military preparations and the value of her national resources could be ascertained more definitely.

The anti-settlement group has been stirred to renewed action by Premier Mussolini's statements praising the Fascist for improving the army, navy and air service and hinting that they must keep their arms ready for some future use.

The eleven war debts of European nations, refunded by the American debt funding commission, will cost the taxpayers of the United States $105,617,000, Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, told the senate today, in assailing particularly the Italian debt settlement.

Howell contended that the agreements made by the American commission amount to cancellation of the loans made by this country from receipts of Liberty bonds during the World War.

"Based upon the rule of partial payments understood by every schoolboy, the total payments in every case are not sufficient to pay interest at the rate specified by congress," Howell said.

"It must be clearly evident that no principal is ever to be paid and that every debt agreement thus far made and recommended by the debt commission provides for cancellation."

Howell contended that the agreements are results of cancellation propaganda started by European countries shortly after the war, and he submitted to the senate statements from prominent European statesmen pleading for cancellation.

Culver City Police Chief Ousted

CULVER CITY, March 30.—C. J. Cain, chief of police, was summarily removed from office today, on orders of Rev. Houck, chairman of the Culver City police commissioners.

Direct disobedience of orders, insubordination, inefficiency and for the good of the department" were given as the reasons for the ouster.

F. J. Roberts, former warrant officer, was made acting chief, subject to approval by the board of city trustees.

Cain will face the police commissioners later for hearing on specific charges, the nature of which were not revealed.

COMMUNISTS IN PARIS CHAMBER UPSET SESSION

(By United Press)
PARIS, March 30.—Finance Minister Peret, in the chamber of deputies today, announced one of the conditions upon which France would be willing to fund her debt to the United States.

He said that "the United States and England are showing good will, but France's creditors should accord us the 'safeguard' clause which would bind France to pay only in proportion as France's debtors paid."

The safeguard clause which caused trouble during Joseph Caillaux's efforts to fund the debt in Washington last September, Communist disorder compelled the suspension of the chamber session soon after Peret had spoken of the debt.

Deputies De Cios and Fournier, who were elected by Paris constituents Sunday, entered the chamber and were greeted by their fellow Communists, who marched down the aisles, singing The Internationale.

President Herriot, of the chamber, put on his hat as a signal that the session was suspended.

The chamber soon reconvened and there arose an argument between Herriot and right leaders. Herriot charged the right with precipitating the earlier disorders by boozing the Communists as they entered the chamber, and told them that he would not tolerate boozing.

Thereafter Peret resumed his remarks, with a warning that "any delay in the solution of the financial crisis would result in incalculable consequences." He said the Briand government would resign if the financial measure were delayed.

SEVEN PERISH AS FARMHOUSE BURNS

BAUDETTA, Minn., March 30.—Seven persons were burned to death in a farmhouse in the upper end of Lake of the Woods county, according to reports reaching here today.

First reports from the isolated city of Williams, where the tragedy occurred, said the entire family of a farmer—known either as Nunen or Newman—was burned.

The farmer, his wife and five children were burned, according to the report.

U. S. RUPTURE WITH MEXICO IS DEMANDED

Representative of Archbishop Insists American Recognition Be Recalled

SEES RULE BY SOVIET

Attorney Declares Present Situation Has Historical Parallel Only in Russia

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—Demand for withdrawal of recognition of Mexico until her constitution is amended to permit unrestricted religious worship and teaching was made before the house foreign affairs committee today by Charles W. Darr, Washington attorney, representing the Rev. Michael J. Carley, archbishop of Baltimore.

Darr denounced the banishment of American ministers, priests and nuns from Mexico and termed President Calles a "bandit leader," who was carrying out campaign pledges "to rid the country of God and His place of worship and education." He urged adoption of the Boylan resolution, proposing withdrawal of recognition.

Withdrawal of recognition is necessary, Darr said, "to restore God in Mexico" and stem the Bolshevik tide which he said was sweeping the country.

"The present situation in Mexico," Darr declared, "has no parallel in history, with the exception of present-day Russia. It is a cardinal tenet of the Soviet that God must go, that the path of the Bolshevik may be made easier. Nothing separates the United States but the Rio Grande river. Russia knows it and believes the best way to convert a stubborn nation is to convince its next-door neighbor."

"Mexico is proving an easy convert. The menace of Bolshevism has reached our door. Let's crush it ere the threshold is reached."

ALIEN LAND LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE

MEXICO CITY, March 30.—The "alien land law," alleged retroactive clauses of which have been opposed by the United States, is in effect today, following promulgation of the regulatory decrees.

Americans here are generally agreed that, despite a specific statement in the regulations that neither the law nor the regulations shall be applied "retroactively" to injure any person whatever, the objectionable retroactivity of the law still exists.

Under the law, aliens acquiring titles of concession or stock of companies exploiting mines, waters, fuels or land, must agree not to invoke the protection of their government, under penalty of confiscation of the interest or stocks by the Mexican authorities.

The law also provides that Mexican officials shall lose their offices if they fail to carry out the law.

PRINCESS VICTORIA IS SERIOUSLY ILL

LONDON, March 30.—There is considerable anxiety today regarding the condition of Princess Victoria, sister of King George, who is ill of influenza.

A bulletin, issued today, said that the princess had maintained her strength and that there had been no extension of the complications in her chest. Many persons called at Marlborough house, where she lived with her mother, the late Queen Alexandra, until the latter's death last autumn. The princess' condition did not improve during the night.

Her nephew, the Prince of Wales, who was operated on yesterday to relieve an ear ache, is progressing nicely and is expected to be out in a week.

Hoover Declares Business Stable

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover sees no connection between business conditions over the country and the downward movement of the New York stock exchange. Hoover declined to comment on the stock market's activity, but he said today that, so far as he could see, general conditions were sound in the business world.

Second Son Born To Chaplins

HOLLYWOOD, March 30.—A second baby boy was born today to Lita Gray, 17-year-old wife of Charles Spencer Chaplin, motion picture comedian. The baby arrived at 8:50 a. m.

"Charlie and everyone concerned are very happy," it was announced. "The mother is feeling fine, and the baby is a healthy fellow of seven pounds."

The first baby, born last June, was named Charlie Jr. Both Lita and Charlie had hoped for a girl. "But they are very happy, nevertheless," said studio attaches.

The baby was born at the home of Mrs. Chaplin's mother, Mrs. Lillian Spicer.

STOCK SHARES SOLD IN SLUMP RUN 3,356,000

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, March 30.—Another flood of selling descended upon the stock exchange today and prices wilted as big banking houses were unable to stem the downward course of the market.

Railroad stocks were hardest hit, sharp losses being sustained in such issues as New York Central, C. and O., and Atlantic Coast lines.

The total sales for the day reached the enormous total of 3,356,000 shares, approximately a half million shares more than yesterday.

It was 3:30 p. m. before the final sale of the day was recorded on the ticker.

It was the eighth day in the history of the exchange on which more than 3,000,000 shares have changed hands and was the third 3,000,000-share day this year.

Traders holding large blocks of industrial stocks were fearful that the market might be next assailed by bearish interests and they threw in considerable shares, with the result that such stocks as United States steel and Hudson reached their lowest quotations of the year.

The curb market also reflected the generally bearish trend of financial markets, its prices dropping downward after holding fairly steady.

'Last of Feudal Barons' Is Dead

SAN LUIS, Colo., March 30.—Antonio Arcadio Salazar, "last of the feudal barons," died here today, at his ranch home, which was the castle from where he directed the economic activities of nearly an entire valley.

Even the influx of irrigation farmers from the middle west failed to break the grip of the Spanish-speaking people of this section.

From a barefoot orphan boy, who herded sheep on the high San Luis de Cristo range, in the days when war parties of Navajos, Apaches and Comanches harried the Spanish settlements on the Rio Grande, Salazar developed into the ruler of 5000 people and a domain as large as an European kingdom.

Man Clubs Two Women With Iron

WESTON, Mass., March 30.—Two women, both more than 70 years old, battled for 15 minutes in their home here today against a 75-year-old man, who had attacked them with an iron bar. One of the women, Mrs. Arabella Wright, 77, a wealthy widow, was injured during the scuffle, but she and her companion, Mrs. Mary Winnett, 72, finally resisted the attack of Charles F. Gilmore, the 75-year-old caretaker of the Wright estate.

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 30.—An express train was derailed today near here with an estimated loss of 20 lives. The engineer of the express ignored or did not see a red right signifying that the line was blocked.

Man Stabs His Wife to Death

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—Benito Garcia, 55, voluntarily surrendered to police today, after stabbing his wife, Meclia, 42, to death. Two daughters, aged 14 and 17, witnessed the killing, according to police.

TOKYO SEEKS NO GRANT ON MEXICO SOIL

Japanese Residents of California, However, May Be Looking for New Homes

EXPLANATION IS MADE

Magdalena Bay Fishing Concession, Once Extended To America, Has Expired

(By United Press)
TOKIO, March 30.—Japanese in California may be seeking a colony on Magdalena bay, Lower California, but the Japanese government has no information on the subject and is not seeking any concessions in Mexico, a foreign office spokesman told the United Press today.

A press association in the United States has circulated a story alleging that such a concession was being sought by Japanese.

Japanese officials consider the continual reference to Magdalena bay as unfortunate, as they feel it implies an obvious inference that Japan is seeking a site for a naval base on the American continent.

Anti-Japanese feeling in California is such, the spokesman said, that Japanese there now are continually discriminated against and naturally would desire homes where they would be free from anti-Japanese atmospheres.

MEXICANS DENY MAKING CONCESSION

MEXICO CITY, March 30.—The only concession ever granted to a foreigner on Magdalena bay has expired and none other is being negotiated, Minister of Agriculture Louis Leon told the United Press today, in commenting on the report circulated in the United States that Japan had obtained a colonization concession in Lower California. An American named Haas once had a fishing concession on the bay, but it expired.

LUTHER BURBANK STILL IN DANGER

SANTA ROSA, Calif., March 30.—Luther Burbank, 77-year-old plant scientist, spent a comfortable night and showed some signs of improvement today, Dr. Joseph H. Shaw, his physician, said.

"Except for some hiccupping, he had a restful night," the doctor declared, after examining his patient at 8 a. m. "He slept at various intervals last night and this morning. He is unable to eat much—only a little broth and milk."

Because of Burbank's age and nervous condition, the physician did not consider his patient out of danger, although he was pleased with the progress made during the past 12 hours.

The examination this morning showed Burbank's temperature to be 99. His pulse was 120, respiration 18 and blood pressure 70-110.

"He will have to remain perfectly quiet for several days, even if he continues to show gains," Dr. Shaw declared.

Anheuser-Busch Is To Make Medicine

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Anheuser-Busch and Pabst companies have been granted a permit by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews for manufacture of 3.75 per cent malt extract. The product contains 25 per cent of "malt solids," thereby taking it out of the beverage class and putting it under the head of a medicine. However, the companies have promised Andrews to see that the product does not get into bootlegging channels.

PRETENDER IS BURIED

SNOW 61-2 INCHES DEEP BREAKS MISSOURI RECORD

(By United Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 30.—Six and one-half inches of snow and the probability of more tomorrow has been in existence, never before has March or the pre-Easter season fallen prey to winter so hard and so late.

With one of the heaviest snow blankets of winter extending over Kansas and the wheat belt, crop forecasters were jubilant over an already optimistic outlook for a gigantic wheat production.

Bull Elk Freed From Park Spurns Liberty

ASHLAND, Ore., March 30.—Teddy, aged bull elk, is back home today, having spurned an offer of freedom. Teddy and his mate were released from the city park this week and escorted to the head of Ashland canyon and there freed.

But in the morning Teddy was found back at the park, trying to get through the high wire fence into the park, where he made his home for many years.

But Teddy came back alone, as the cow elk took full advantage of her freedom.

JUDGE ISSUES WARRANT FOR JACK DEMPSEY

(By United Press)
MADERA, Calif., March 30.—Arrest of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, loomed here today, when Judge Leroy Bailey issued a warrant for Dempsey, after he had apparently defied the order of the judge to appear personally to answer to a complaint of reckless driving. Dempsey's car was alleged to have touched 80 miles an hour.

When Robert Gates, Dempsey's chauffeur, appeared alone, Justice Bailey immediately had the warrant issued. However, he was advised that Dempsey might appear voluntarily to avoid the humiliation of being arrested and brought to Madera in custody of an officer, and he deferred ordering the warrant served.

Gates' plea on the reckless driving charge was delayed until this afternoon. It was learned that District Attorney Mason Bailey would demand jail sentence for both Dempsey and his chauffeur.

Traffic Officer M. A. Harrison declared that the Dempsey speed violation was one of the most flagrant ever recorded in the state. At times, the Dempsey car was going about 80 miles an hour, Harrison said. The first charge of speeding against Gates and Dempsey was later changed to one of reckless driving.

Dempsey has until tomorrow to appear without facing the possible additional charge of contempt of court.

Mrs. Dempsey, formerly Estelle Taylor, was with Dempsey when he was cited.

DRIVE RESPONSIBLE, DECLARES DEMPSEY.

SAN DIEGO, March 30.—"My driver is entirely responsible for any charges brought in Madera," Jack Dempsey declared in a telephone conversation from Hills training quarters when informed that a warrant had been issued in Madera for his arrest. "I didn't get any ticket," Dempsey declared, "and as long as the driver is in my employ he'll have to be responsible. Somebody's trying to get funny up there."

New Cabinet for Rumania Sought

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 30.—King Ferdinand today asked Gen. Alex Averescu to form a cabinet in succession to Premier Bratianu, resigned.

The constitutional span of life of Bratianu's cabinet expired this morning when the premier resigned. There was no connection between the resignation and the recent renunciation of rights to the throne by former Crown Prince Carol, although the intrigue which caused Carol to withdraw from Bucharest continues.

DEMAND IS MADE FOR SUGAR REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Despite previous refusal of President Coolidge to make public the sugar tariff report, the senate tariff investigating committee today issued a formal subpoena to require the U. S. tariff commission to furnish the committee a copy of the report.

Simultaneously at the White House the president indicated he had no objection to publication of the report. The subpoena was served personally upon John F. Bethune, Secretary of the commission and custodian of its records.

The president's spokesman pointed out that there is no need for worry over the sugar situation at the present, as when agitation concerning the report was at its height, sugar was retailing at 9 cents a pound, while it now sells for 8 or 6 cents a pound.

BOULDER DAM BILL UNDER DISCUSSION

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Discussion of the Johnson-Swing Boulder canyon dam bill, continued before the senate tariff investigating committee today in closed session.

Only five members were present and no definite action was taken in the hour session.

The measure, however, was read, paragraph by paragraph and each feature discussed.

The committee will resume tomorrow.

400 DERRICKS IN OIL FIELDS BLOWN DOWN

Storm in Eastern Part of State Causes Loss Estimated at Over Million

DAMAGE IN BEAUMONT

Houston Swept by 82-Mile Gale, Injuring More Than Score; Houses Destroyed

(By United Press)
HOUSTON, Texas, March 30.—The 82-mile gale that swept Houston and this section of Texas early today killed two, injured a score or more, blew down 400 oil derricks, destroyed several small residences and did property damage of more than $1,000,000, according to reports coming in from various sections.

The dead men, Jack Kelly and George Brown, were killed when a derrick at the Liberty, Tex., oil field, fell on them.

J. B. Roberts was seriously injured. A Mr. and Mrs. Richards were injured when their house was blown down at Liberty.

Cuts Path in Oil Field. More than 50 derricks went down as the storm cut a path through the Liberty field. About 200 were destroyed at Hull, 100 at Goose Creek and 50 at Humble.

Property damage in the oil fields alone will run in excess of $1,000,000, according to present estimates. Property damage at Beaumont is estimated at approximately $150,000, consisting mostly of houses being blown down and unroofed.

Unofficial reports have been received that many homes were blown down in small towns in this vicinity but telegraph and telephone wires and the information cannot be verified.

Heavy Rain Accompanies Wind. The high winds were accompanied by a terrific downpour of rain.

Storm warnings were issued today for the Texas coast from Port Arthur to Matagorda.

Small craft were instructed to put out cautiously along the entire Gulf coast and high winds were predicted.

MISSISSIPPI TOWNS IN PATH OF STORM

ATLANTA, Ga., March 30.—Telephone, electric light and telegraph service was demoralized by the storm, Miss., today, according to meager advices reaching here today.

At Magnolia, Miss., the power plant was partially wrecked. Trees were uprooted and roofs damaged at Fernwood, Miss., although no casualties were reported.

Automobiles were turned over and children enroute to school were forced to seek shelter at Independence and Covington, La., where the storm reached cyclonic velocity. All March rainfall records in New Orleans for the last 51 years were broken at noon, with a total fall of 14.61 inches for the month, according to the weather bureau.

'SO'S YOUR OLD MAN' IDIOTIC IDIOM FOR WHICH EXPERTS CAN GIVE NO ADEQUATE EXPLANATION

NEW YORK, March 30.—Urchin of American idiom, the ultimate in language, ready-made wise crack for any and all occasions—that's "So's your old man."

Everybody's saying it! nobody knows exactly why.

From coast to coast it has "caught on," according to reports to Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, noted dictionary editor, and other New York etymologists.

Probably it has been translated by now into the Scandinavian, Librarian and Esperanto.

It echoes in ballroom and Bowery. Pastors use it in the pulpit. Radio broadcasters nightly send it singing around the earth.

No "idiotism" since "ish ka bibble" has so gripped the fickle popular fancy.

And "ish ka bibble," by comparison, is as full of tangible meaning as a sardine can is full of fish.

"We are living," discusses Vizetelly, "in an era of the most reckless abandoned corruption of our native tongue."

"Such an era has followed every great war."

"A public overwrought by unusual strain seeks an outlet in expression as well as in action. 'Pest up emotions throw off restraints of customs in languages as well as in conduct.

"People feel entitled to coin any word, any expression that they want to, regardless of whether there is sanction for it in grammar, literature or logic."

"And so here, there, everywhere we begin to hear such nonsense as 'So's your old man'."

Prof. Walter S. Pitkin of Columbia university, hazards the supplementary analysis that wise cracks are the national hobby of the day; that to those less nimble of wit, original wise cracks sometimes aren't forthcoming readily; and that in such an ex-agency, "So's your old man" fills the bill. Hence the public favor it enjoys.

But the days of "So's your old man" are numbered, adds Dr. Vizetelly. "This by the same inevitable law that sooner or later consigns popular songs to oblivion."

"Two or three years ago," illustrates the dictionary expert, "we epidemic of so-called 'flapper slang.' We had 'airdale' for a man who was ugly and unprepossessing; 'hand money' for a girl's carfare home; 'dimbox' for anyone who sought to patch up a quarrel; 'snuggle pup' for a frequenter of petting parties; and 'alarm clock' for a chaperone."

"You don't hear this flapper slang any longer. The flappers are talking English again."

And where did "So's your old man" come from?"

From across the footlights, Dr. Vizetelly imagines. It's in vaudeville that most such expressions get their start.

Somewhere or other in the cauldron of sprightly speech where brews the American vernacular, the successor to "So's your old man" already is simmering, no doubt.

"What will it be?" says Dr. Vizetelly. "Ask me when the Pyramids will fall down."

HOUSE TAKES UP CHARGE OF IMPEACHMENT

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Unusually heavy demands from members for time to speak forced house leaders today to postpone until tomorrow a final vote on impeachment of Federal Judge George W. English.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—For the first time in 12 years, the house of representatives resolved itself today into a grand jury to scrutinize official acts of Federal Judge George W. English, of the eastern district of Illinois, with a view to his impeachment.

The lower body was arrayed for a bitter fight over a resolution from the judiciary committee, recommending that the jurist be tried by the senate and removed from office for "high misdemeanors."

At the instance of Majority Leader Tilson, Connecticut, all committee chairmen agreed to adjourn their morning sessions at 11:30, so that members could be on the floor at noon for the proceedings against English.

It is unlikely that a vote on impeachment will be reached until late tomorrow.

Heidelberg Leads In Oratory Event

FORT COLLINS, Colo., March 30.—The second day of the Pi Kappa Delta national convention and oratorical contests started off today, with Heidelberg university, Tiffin, O., considered one of the strongest, having lost last night to Kansas City junior college.

The Heidelberg orators had defeated Jamestown college, of North Dakota, and the Oklahoma Baptist university.

The elimination will continue today until only eight teams are left and they will go to Estes park for the final rounds.

Two hundred and fifty delegates from all over the country are registered here for the debates, extemporaneous speaking and oratorical contests.

IDAHO BOOSTERS IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—Headed by Gov. C. C. Moore, a delegation of 24 officials, producers and prominent business men of Idaho arrived here today for a three-day interstate reciprocal trade tour.

Charles A. Cooke, of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, met the party in Riverside and escorted the visitors to Los Angeles, where they were greeted by local boosters, including W. M. Creakum, publicity director of the Southern California Editorial association, and former residents of Idaho.

Another delegation of Idaho boosters from Twin Falls will be guests of honor at a luncheon, to be given by the chamber tomorrow at the Biltmore hotel.

Business interests of the states interested in the trade tours expect much benefit to result through reciprocal trading of the products of western states.

Labor Federation Refuses Help Plea

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The American Federation of Labor has refused the plea of the United Front committee of 16,000 striking textile workers, of Passaic, N. J., for affiliation and assistance. President William Green, of the federation, in a letter to the strike leader, Albert Weisbord, said the committee "had no standing" with the federation and advised that the federation could move only through the United Textile Workers union, a branch of the federation.

New Plans Postal Rate Reduction

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A million dollars' reduction in postal rates, designed to stimulate the business of his department, was recommended by Postmaster General New to the special congressional postal rates committee today. Decreasing postcard rates from 2 to 1 cent and providing a penalty fee of 1 cent for each ounce of first class mail without sufficient postage, were among New's suggestions.

Aspirin Gargle in Sore Throat or Tonsilitis

Prepare a harmless and effective gargle by dissolving two "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in four table-spoonfuls of water. Gargle throat thoroughly. Repeat in two hours if necessary.

Be sure you use only the genuine Bayer Aspirin, marked with the Bayer Cross, which can be had in tin boxes of twelve tablets for few cents.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

To try to rent your home without success by telling all your friends and acquaintances about it—To place a "For Rent" sign on the front porch and still have no inquiries—And then, to place your first Classified Ad in this newspaper and be literally swamped with calls from interested tenants and locate one within two days' time—

Ah, that's the thrill that comes once in a lifetime! If you have never used the Classified Ads to buy, sell, rent or exchange you are due for a pleasant surprise. Ask for an Ad-Taker at phone number 37 today.

You hear the above remark every day. Often the woman is far from a "beauty." But she is more than a beauty. She has good taste, good judgment and knows how to charm. And one of the simplest elements is a smile. But woe to a smile that shows a mouth full of "bum" teeth. It doesn't cost much to have us make your teeth 100% O. K.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
When a man's mind dwells only upon the past, death has already set its mark upon him. This is true whether the subject be thirty-five or eighty-five years of age.
Value what has been, cherish its lessons, rejoice in its blessings, but live eagerly into the days ahead. That is the supreme compliment you pay to those who have helped to make you what you are and who now await your reunion with them in the life beyond the veil.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

STYLE STRIPPED OF "BUNK"
Some witty wight has declared that bad form is only good form carried to extremes. The same thing is true of false fashions. They are merely sound fashions overdone.
Coats a little longer or shorter than accepted styles prescribe; shoulders a little broader; trousers a little wider; colors a little louder; patterns a little bolder—such exaggerations, attempting to go correct usage
"one better," are bad form caused by stretching good form beyond seemly limits. Many a man fancies that he is behind fashion unless he is ahead of it. It takes a bottomless purse and an overweening ego to be a style creator or pioneer. Edwin Hubbell Chapin wrote, "The mere leader of fashion has no genuine claim to su-premaccy. He has embroidered his title upon his waistcoat and carries his 'worth' in his watch-chain. If he is allowed any real precedence for this, it is almost a moral swindle—a way of obtaining goods under false pretenses."

To look upon correct dress sensibly is the first step toward being dressed correctly. Clothes are important to success in the world, but they are not the most important thing in the world. They are the binding, not the book; the frame, not the picture; the soundingboard, not the music; the background, not the foreground. Clothes should not draw attention to the wearer, but to his good taste. The difference is as wide and deep as the ocean. To be conspicuously well-dressed, but not dressed conspicuously—that's the idea, and it is the only sound idea about style.

A "piker" has been defined, with sly American humor, as a man who lives within his means, but though that is a rich line, it is a poor line of conduct. Dress within your income, and your station in life, and your obligations socially and in business. Don't try to "lead the fashion." It takes unlimited leisure and money to do this, and even then, it is a difficult undertaking, because the latest style is always cast in the shadow by a style still later and following right at its heels.

The single-breasted spring suit, portrayed in the accompanying sketch, shows one front button, a style that is not widely popular yet, but is gaining for wear as we approach warmer days. This button serves as a pivot or mere anchorage to keep the coat together, yet allows it to drape softly, naturally and with that easy, loungy freedom prescribed by milder weather. The shoulders are squarish. The collar notch is low. The lapels are peaked. The sides are flexed to the
back vent or none.

WHITTIER AUTO SALESMAN GETS CRASH DAMAGES

An automobile wreck, which was followed by prayer for one of the injured, cost H. L. Sutor, Costa Mesa youth, $1525 in the form of a court judgment for damages, awarded last yesterday to C. I.
Dorn, Whittier motor car dealer.

Mrs. Bessie Mae Randall Bruffet, pretty Santa Ana pastor and former evangelist, was the one who led the prayer for the injured motorist, a girl who had been riding with Sutor.

Dorn also was hurt in the wreck, when struck by Sutor's car, but no prayer was said for him. He was forced to wait until yesterday, when his own prayer to the court, as a demand made in a lawsuit is called, was answered with a $1525 judgment. Judge R. Y. Williams heard the case.

Mrs. Bruffet was a witness at the trial, on behalf of Sutor. She had been leading a caravan of young church people to a meeting in an other city, she said, and was riding in an automobile just ahead of Sutor, who was one of the party.
At a point between La Habra and Whittier, they passed a car parked partly on the highway. Dorn was coming from the other direction and Mrs. Bruffet said she glanced back to see whether Sutor would try to pass the parked car. He did, saw he was likely to strike Dorn's car, so drove directly to the left off the road, hoping to miss Dorn in that way. Dorn, however, turned his car off the road also and the two machines crashed.

Mrs. Bruffet's car stopped and she, with others of the party hurried back to the wreck. When she saw one of the girls apparently was badly hurt, and she feared might die, the girl minister knelt in the highway, with her flock about her, and offered a prayer.
Sutor testified that he had been driving slowly all the way from Santa Ana and had passed no cars.
The other side, however, produced a witness, who said he had been driving at a rate of about 40 miles an hour and, shortly before he reached the scene of the wreck, Sutor had passed him so rapidly that he was standing still. "The I had been standing still," the witness said that he was then three blocks from the point of the wreck, but that Sutor had gained two blocks upon him in that distance.
Dorn sued for $5000 for personal injuries and $1844 for car damage.
The court awarded him $600 for his injuries and $935 for damages to his car.

Beach Couple Is Given Judgment

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wells, of Huntington Beach, won a judgment for $5067.50 against G. B.
Anderson, oil operator, in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court late yesterday, the case involving a claim for violation of an oil drilling agreement.

A lease held by Anderson on the Wells property provided, it was said, that Anderson pay Wells $400 per month for all the time drilling was not carried on.

Attorney James L. Hansen represents the plaintiffs in the case.
Anderson did not contest the suit.

That Richard E. Ballou, who died recently in Santa Ana, was the last surviving member of E. G. Baker post, Grand Army of the Republic, in Hailey, Ida., was revealed here today by his son, Edward Ballou, 520 West Sixth street, Santa Ana, at whose home the veteran of the Civil War died.

A daughter, Mrs. L. S. Alcock, resides at 812 North Birch street, Santa Ana.

The veteran came to Santa Ana five months ago for the benefit of his health. He was 80 years old at the time of his demise. Two other sons survive, Henry Ballou, of Hailey, Ida., and Byron Ballou, of Mona, Utah. Not only was Mr. Ballou the only remaining member of the Hailey post but he was also the sole veteran of the Civil War residing in Blaine county, Ida., according to Edward Ballou, of Santa Ana.

The elder Ballou enlisted in the thirteenth regiment of Wisconsin infantry when he was 15 years old and served 15 days, at which time his parents secured his discharge from the army because of his youth.
If his mother had been 24 hours later in reaching the authorities, he would have taken part in the actual conflict, his son asserted.

He did not get back into the service until August, 1864, when he enlisted in Company D, First Wisconsin heavy artillery, and served throughout the remainder of the war. He was assigned to duty in Brazier City, La., and was there when the war ended.

Mr. Ballou made an effort to preserve the records of his G. A. R.
post but was unable to locate them, according to an article printed in a Hailey newspaper.

COOK SENTENCED ON POSSESSION CHARGE

Charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, Manuel O'Campo, Laguna Beach cook, formerly of Santa Ana, was found guilty before Justice L. V. Murphy, in Laguna Beach, yesterday afternoon and given his choice of spending 500 days in the county jail or paying a fine of $500. O'Campo is in jail.

O'Campo was arrested Saturday night by Frank Howell, Laguna Beach officer, together with sheriff's officers. His arrest is believed to have blocked one of the chief avenues of liquor finding its way into Laguna Beach, officers said.

The arrest was made Saturday night after officers are alleged to have seen O'Campo make several liquor sales.

Money to Loan on the Monthly Payment Plan

When you plan to pay an installment loan, you should know two things—how much per month and how many months. We have a schedule of payments worked out and listed on a card for your inspection. You can make your budget for a certain monthly payment and you know just how long you will be required to pay it. Each payment made means less due on your loan, because each payment includes one month's interest and a part of your principal. In this manner you reduce your loan a little at a time until the debt is wiped out. Our lowest payment is $12.50 per month for 114 months, and we offer several larger monthly payments which cut down the time and cut down the total interest.

Let Tanlac restore your health

If your body is all fagged-out and run down, if you are losing weight steadily, lack appetite, have no strength or energy—why not let Tanlac help you back to health and strength?

So many millions have been benefited by the Tanlac treatment, so many thousands have written to testify to that effect that it's sheer folly not to make the test.

Tanlac, you know, is a great natural tonic and builder, a compound, after the famous Tanlac formula, of roots, barks and herbs. It purges the blood stream, revitalizes the digestive organs and enables the sickly body to regain its vanished weight.

You don't need to wait long to get results. Tanlac goes right to the seat of trouble. In a day or so you note a vast difference in your condition. You have more appetite, sleep better at night and the color begins to creep back into your washed-out cheeks.

Don't put off taking Tanlac another precious day. Step into the nearest drug store and get a bottle of this world-famous tonic. That's the first important step back to health and vigor. Every day's delay means unnecessary suffering, for Tanlac starts to clean out and

Nurse Tells Surprising Results of Tanlac

'RUG BURGLAR' FOUND GUILTY IN FIRST CASE

A spectacle, unique in Orange county court annals, was enacted yesterday, when James Wilton, alleged "rug burglar," was tried twice for burglary on the same day and in the same court.

With three burglary charges to be disposed of, the first trial opened at 10 a. m. and was over at 2:30 p. m. The jury retired and, in nine minutes, returned a verdict of guilty. The second trial was immediately started, but was expected, however, that both the second and third cases could be completed today, if Wilton followed his strategy of the first trial by refusing to present a defense.

Three days had been set aside for the three trials.

Acting as his own attorney, Wilton met defeat at the first trial yesterday. He was tried for the burglary of the B. Schroeder residence on Placencia avenue, residence of many deceptions laid at the door of the so-called "rug burglar."

Wilton's defense was to follow the course of saying nothing and let the prosecution prove the charge if it could. The evidence against him was circumstantial, but was supported by his own confession made in jail, following his arrest.

The defendant did not take the witness stand himself, but contented himself with telling his side of the story when he argued to the jury. This breach of court procedure was overlooked because of Wilton's inexperience, it was said.

In his address to the jury, Wilton declared that he had been given the "third degree" and starved until he was "willing to confess to murder" in order to get food. He admitted that he had stolen goods in his possession but did not explain their possession.

Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moxley ridiculed the third-degree story, when he arose to address the jury. He pointed to Wilton's unmistakable plump physical condition and then, with mock severity, deplored the cruelty of jail officials.

When the jury retired, Judge Z. B. West called a 10-minute recess before starting the second trial. The jury was back with its verdict before the second trial opened.

Wilton then demanded that the second trial be delayed until today, but the court refused his request. Examination of jurors then commenced again and the regular panel was shortly exhausted. The court issued an order for a special venire of 25 jurors, who reported today. Wilton proved so critical that this panel was also exhausted and another five were summoned before the jury was completed.

The condition of Miss Elizabeth Haas, 24, Irvine ranch resident, who is in the Orange county hospital as the result of swallowing poison in an Anaheim hotel, Saturday, was reported as greatly improved today and there is little doubt as to her ultimate recovery, according to word from the hospital.

Miss Haas was found in a serious condition in the hotel 24 hours after she had registered there. She was found in her room by persons who became suspicious after she had not been seen for several hours.

She had taken veronal tablets, according to the physician summoned and who requested her removal to the hospital.

The attempt at suicide was said to have been made because the girl claims, she was subjected to abuse at the hands of a relative. This information was contained in a letter, said to have been written by the girl to her mother.

Miss Gertrude Potts and her brother, Clifford Potts of 637 North Ross street and Miss Alice Wasser, 731 Mortimer street, are planning to leave on Friday afternoon for a motoring trip of ten days, their destination being the Grand Canyon. The party will stop over two days at Kingman, Ariz., the former home of the Potts family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sutton and daughter, Valerie and Tom Watts of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Al Burns and children, Marjorie and Curtis of Laguna Beach, were members of a family party of 22 which enjoyed the annual Easter dinner reunion at the home of Mrs. Curtis' sister, Mrs. Ida Lovgren, at La Verne, last Sunday. Dinner was served at noon, the relatives, who gathered from various parts of Southern California, enjoying a happy day.

Mrs. Ben Glover of Long Beach, formerly of this city, was a recent all-day guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Curtis, 222 South Main street.

The Misses Lillie and Lena Scherling, who have been here on visit to their brother, Charles Scherling, left yesterday via the Santa Fe on their return journey to their home in Dubuque, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bryant, visitors in this city, departed yesterday for their home in Wakefield, Mass., planning to make a stop-over at Grand Canyon.

Mrs. Robert G. Tutill of 1701 North Broadway spent yesterday in Los Angeles, where she went to greet old eastern friends.

Mrs. Edward Babcock of Winnebago, Minn., is visiting at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurd, 1715 West Washington street.

Henry Seidel, Mrs. Sid Smithwick and Mrs. Frank Seidel went to Los Angeles today to visit Teddy Seidel, the 17-year-old son of Henry Seidel and nephew of Mrs. Smithwick and Mrs. Seidel, who is dangerously ill in Angelus hospital with pleuropneumonia. The young man was vaccinated and was then stricken with typhoid fever, but was improving rapidly, when pneumonia set in.

Mrs. C. W. Burns of 451 West Sixth street and her sister, Mrs. E. Mickle of Springfield, O., returned yesterday from a pleasant visit at Baldwin Park with Mrs. Burns' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bacon and family. The party made a trip to Indio and Palm Springs on Sunday. Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Mickle left here last Friday.

Word has been received here of the dangerous illness of Mrs. T. M. Nichols, wife of the Santa Fe agent at Upland, who was connected with the Santa Fe here for many years. Mrs. Nichols suffered a stroke about two years ago and her physician gives no hope for her recovery.

Lyman Tremain and his wife, Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain, who have been living at 803 1-2 North Broadway for the past year and a half, way for the past year and a half, have returned to their beautiful ranch in Santiago canyon to reside. The move was made yesterday.

Mrs. H. C. Wiley of 810 French street, is making rapid progress toward recovery at the Loma Linda sanitarium, where she underwent a serious operation several weeks ago. Mrs. Wiley is now able to see her friends and sit up for a part of each day.

Mrs. W. H. Haddon of 1014 French street, and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Borgmeyer of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is making an extended visit here, left on the City of Los Angeles last Saturday for a trip to Honolulu, planning to return by May 14.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Mr. and Mrs. Adam F. Zaiser of Tustin motored to San Bernardino Sunday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nau. Mr. Nau, brother of Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Zaiser, is convalescent following a long illness. The Santa Ana also called upon Mrs. H. C. Wiley at Loma Linda.

Miss Harriet M. Whidden of 513 1-2 South Main street has returned from a week's stay at Alpine Willows, a charming resort in the San Diego mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Quick of 1608 East Fourth street, and their houseguests, Mr. Quick's sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Quick, her daughter, Miss Josephine Quick and niece, Miss Ruth Quick, of Canton, Ill., spent today on a pleasure trip to Riverside and vicinity. The Misses Josephine and Ruth Quick have been attending University of California in Los Angeles, and are planning to return east next month.

P. S. Lucas of 1625 West Second street, former secretary here for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, left yesterday for Ventura to take up his duties in the same capacity for the Ventura organization. Mrs. Lucas and her family will remain in Santa Ana until their home is rented.

UNITED STATES IS HELD UP AS BOGEY TO REDS

NEW YORK, March 30.—"American pacifism is a method of imperialistic robbery—"

"General Charles G. Dawes bought Germany for $200,000,000 and put his controller on the neck of the German people—"

"The United States is the judge and master of Europe—"

Leon Trotsky, in a speech delivered February 15 and received in New York today by mail, thus conjured up before the Russian masses a capitalist-imperialistic bogey, representing the United States, and he bade the Russians strike it down or perish.

The above quotations from the Soviet leader's speech epitomize the Communist appraisal of American altruism, individualism, statesmanship and aims.

Speech is repeated

Trotsky spoke to thousands in the experimental theater of Moscow and the response was so great that the speech was repeated there and was broadcast to millions who could not come to hear it.

Trotsky pictured the United States as a land of tremendous power and potentialities. He warned his hearers that:

"With all the realism that is the basis of our policy of education, we do not try to underestimate by one iota the powers of American capital."

The speaker began by explaining that Soviet Russia stands at the left of labor thought and the United States at the right.

Extremes Must Clash

The two extremes must clash and only one can survive, he said. To defeat the United States is the inevitable conflict in Communism, according to Trotsky, and must enlist the peoples of Europe to its theories. He sees an early opening for Communism in France, where he believes the United States will compel deflation and thus create a great opposition Communist party there.

Labor in the United States, Trotsky explained, denies the necessity of independent class organization. Therefore, American labor goes in for labor banks and insurance companies. These represent the basic economic forms of the new labor movement in the United States.

The American Federation of Labor, he said, had lost the greater part of its membership and now numbers only 2,800,000 workers. A "negligible percentage," representing the "top layers of the working class."

Oil Conference Due

Another international conference soon is due in Washington, continued Trotsky, in his realistic exposition of relations between Europe and America. It will concern oil, and England will be put on a smaller oil ration.

The United States, he said, struggles "pacifistically" for these raw materials: rubber, coffee, tin, potash, nitrates and sisal.

The United States, he charged with basing its power on "a weak, unstable Europe." Therefore, Europe and the colonial countries are first in line for conversion to Communism, and after them, America.

Our Neighbors

RIVERSIDE.—Fifteen thousand feet of four-inch and eight-inch cast iron pipe is now being delivered to the Riverside city water department, Superintendent W. A. Scott states, in outfitting water department activities, and 10,000 feet of six-inch pipe will be here within 30 days. All of this pipe will be laid within the next few months in the replacements and extensions of the Riverside city water system. General growth of water systems for subdivisions and other residence territory show Riverside to be growing rapidly, Mr. Scott said. Of the 25 men now employed in the city water department, about 20 are engaged in keeping in repair and extending the line, it was said.

COLTON.—Work on another business block will soon be started on West I street adjoining the one recently completed by E. M. Duke and occupied by the Charles N. Larson Lacquer works. The new 50 by 120 foot structure will be built to the east of the present building. When completed, it will be occupied by the W. R. Ellery company, now located one block east of the proposed block. This latest project will result in creating three new modern buildings for business occupancy in the block between Seventh street and the Santa Fe railroad. Work will be started at once on the building, which will be similar to the one which it will adjoin.

LA JOLLA.—Buildings and equipment of the new beach and yacht club to be erected soon on the 14-acre tract south of La Jolla Shores by a syndicate of San Diego, Los Angeles and Pasadena professionals and business men, will cost $900,000. Construction of the buildings will be started within the next few weeks. The club will have an ocean frontage of 850 feet. An esplanade, first to be constructed, will be about 300 feet in length and will cost $50,000, according to present plans.

CALEXICO.—Eight carloads of strawberries have been shipped from Calexico to date. All were billed to Los Angeles, where the market has been absorbing the entire production and calling for more. These are said to be the first general shipment of strawberries available in carload lots in coast cities, and the demand is expected to continue for several weeks. Brawley growers have joined Calexico growers in loading cars.

EL CENTRO.—This city shows the largest registration of voters in Imperial county under the new registration at the county clerk's office.

When Everything Looks UPSIDE DOWN

(By Citrus Cy, the Goodyear Guy)

There may be a lot of things that take the joy out of life, but there is no darker hour than when a fellow's tire blows out. And to make the pall of grief descend with a heart-crushing thud is to have that particular tire explode in its infancy or even along in early life.

(Tears in the audience.)
But stop and look!

See that sign breaking through the clouds of gloom? It's a beacon for shipwrecked tires and it reads Goodyear Service Station.

That's the place to take tires for repairing, for big blowouts or tiny cuts, for section work or complete retreading.

And after your tire is repaired here it looks like new. (Cheers and stamping of feet!)

If we do it you'll look twice to find the repair

Sorority Sisters Are Told of Betrothal At Berkeley

THE telephone was the modern medium by which the old, old story reached delighted Santa Ana friends last night, when the announcement in Berkeley of the betrothal of two prominent young Santa Anans, Miss Mildred Paul and Felton Browning, was followed almost immediately by the telephoned message to the families of the two young people in this city.

Miss Paul, a member of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority, followed the established custom for engaged girls, by presenting to her sisters assembled in the sorority house, a box of chocolates containing her name and that of her fiancé. It was thus that the delightful news was first given to her college friends and transmitted almost at once to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Browning.

The romance between the two young people will delight their friends and the wedding will unite two of the most prominent families in Orange county. Miss Paul's return from Berkeley in the very near future will undoubtedly be followed by a round of pre-nuptial gayeties leading up to the early summer wedding. This will be the second within the year in the Paul family, since the son of the home, Dr. Cassius Paul, and Miss Pauline Bell, charming daughter of Dixie, were married in the early winter at one of the prettiest church ceremonies of the season. At that time Miss Mildred Paul was honor maid for her brother's bride, and her friends are delighting in the recollection that her present romance was foretold by her catching the bouquet tossed by the bride.

Informal "At Home" For House-guest

ASUAL announcement by Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, to her friends as she chanced to meet them, that she and her sister and house-guest, Mrs. Harrison Wilcox of Lorain, Ohio, would be at home very informally all Sunday afternoon and evening, resolved itself into a very pleasant occasion and one that will be a happy memory with Mrs. Wilcox of her California visit.

A succession of callers made the hours pass very pleasantly, and friends signified their interest by filling the Little Gray House on Riverine avenue with fragrant garden flowers. Miss Peggy King, niece of Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Wilcox, poured tea assisted by Frederick Elliott, and his young friend, Douglas Cummings.

Mrs. Wilcox will remain for several weeks with her sister and on her return trip to her Ohio home, will visit the Grand Canyon and other scenic points en route.

Uniquely Planned Was Mother-Daughter Luncheon

OHappier gathering could be pictured than that of mothers and daughters at a cleverly planned luncheon with which Mrs. J. T. Raitt commemorated a guest in the city, Mrs. Will E. Martin of Menmouth, Ill., mother of Mrs. Arthur Anderson of North Parton street, and here with Mr. Martin for an extended visit in their daughter's home.

Since the Martins are soon to conclude their visit, Mrs. Raitt planned the unique party as a farewell event for Mrs. Martin, calling together a group of warm friends she has made since her arrival. Rooms in the pleasant Raitt home at 1604 North Baker street, were bright with a profusion of flowers emphasizing a dominant color note of orchid and yellow.

When guests sought their places at the tables for a delectable luncheon menu, they found the same color scheme charmingly carried out. Mrs. Raitt's hospitable idea was well exemplified by the fact that her own daughters, Mrs. H. W. Woodward, Mrs. A. J. Raitt and Mrs. R. J. Raitt, aided in hostess duties throughout the luncheon and the friendly afternoon which followed.

The guest list included in addition to Mrs. Martin and her daughter, Mrs. Anderson, to whom special honors were accorded, Mrs. William Smart and her daughters, Miss Fan Smart and Miss Mary Smart; Mrs. Elizabeth McFadden with Miss Mabel McFadden and Miss Ada McFadden, Mrs. Belle Marshall with the Misses Nancy and Eva Marshall, Mrs. Kelo of Inglewood and her daughter, Mrs. Arthur McFadden and the latter's small daughter, Flora Mina; Mrs. Christina McFadden and her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Hoy, who in turn had her own daughter, Mrs. Lila Hoy Elmer of Balboa; Mrs. W. H. McPeak and the Misses Helen and Rebecca McPeak, Mrs. Arthur Conway of Portland, Ore., and baby son James, Mrs. O. T. Anderson of Los Angeles and small daughter, Mary Elizabeth, Mrs. A. J. Raitt of Fullerton, Mrs. R. J. Raitt and Mrs. H. W. Woodward and baby son, Jimmie.

Hosts Entertain for Distinguished Friend

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Smith of 916 French street entertained an interesting group of friends at dinner recently, the group being composed of Dr. Dewitt Westcott, government inspector of federal hospitals of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Harvey Westcott and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crisp of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Smith's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Peeler of Placentia. Dr. Westcott is making visits to hospitals in the Southland.

BANDIT USES AUTO STOLEN IN ANAHEIM

A car, stolen in Anaheim last night, was used by the bandit who held up the Richfield service station at Downey, later in the evening, according to the Anaheim police.

The machine owned by J. B. Behrens, of Fullerton, was parked at Helena and Center streets, at 7:30 p. m. When Behrens returned from a meeting he had been attending, his car was gone.

The service station attendant secured the number of the automobile as the bandit drove off. According to the attendant, the holdup man was accompanied by an expensively dressed woman. The man appeared to be about 30 years of age, of slender build and weighed about 140 pounds, the station operator said.

The bandit secured $70.

Warrant Is Issued For Girl's Arrest

Justice Kenneth Morrison today issued a warrant for the arrest of Miss Gertrude Jentges, Garden Grove girl, who was scheduled to appear in justice court Monday to answer to a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour on the Newport boulevard. Miss Jentges was arrested by state traffic officers on the Newport boulevard on March 13.

Daisy Austin Marsden Soon to Leave for Studies Abroad

HER COUNTLESS friends in the community are deeply interested in the plans of Daisy Austin Marsden, (Mrs. Samuel A. Marsden of 122 West Eighteenth street) for a two-year period of musical study abroad for a period of many months.

Mrs. Marsden, who conducted classes both here and in Orange very successfully and has also appeared as soloist upon many interesting programs and social occasions, will study in Milan with Piccolli, teacher of Tito Schipa, internationally famous grand opera star.

She will leave Santa Ana next Saturday planning to go directly to Toronto, Canada, for a two-week tour with relatives, are proceeding to New York where she will sail April 27 for Naples. She has engaged passage on the Italian liner, Conte Rosso, and will visit in Naples, Rome and Florence are going to Milan to take up her studies. In Milan she will live with a native family in order to perfect her Italian.

Vienna and Paris will be included in Mrs. Marsden's tour and she plans a course of study in each metropolis ere returning to this country. During her absence, Dr. Marsden will devote much of his time to property interests in the Imperial valley. Their pretty home on West Eighteenth street will be left in charge of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peterson (Audrey Isbell).

Small Laddie Takes Baby Show Honors

Jackie Foust, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Foust, 823 South Main street, is the proud owner of a certificate of honor received at the better babies contest held several weeks ago by the Los Angeles Express-Metro-Goldwyn studios.

Eighteen thousand babies were in the contest from which 500 were chosen in the first elimination. Young Jackie came safely through the first elimination and then was chosen as one of the three best babies entered. As first place was given to another contender and as Jackie was too fine a boy to go home with nothing at all, he was given a certificate of honor stating that he had won second place in the contest.

If Jackie should receive a certificate of honor for three consecutive years he would then win a prize.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Realtors auxiliary will be entertained by Mrs. James Wiley, 119 El Portal, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Walnut Diseases To Be Discussed At Field Meets

Treatment of the common diseases of walnut trees in Orange county will be discussed and their remedy demonstrated at two field demonstrations, to be held tomorrow, according to a statement issued today in the office of the farm advisor.

The first demonstration will be held at the place of John Adams, on north "Little Main" street, West Orange, near the Santa Fe tracks, beginning at 10 a. m. The second demonstration will be held at the place of Charles Van Wyk, on Lyon street, one quarter mile south of Main street, Tustin, beginning at 2 p. m.

The demonstrations will be in charge of W. B. Hooper, walnut specialist of the state college of agriculture, and Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg. All walnut growers have been invited to attend.

GIFTS ARE ABOLISHED
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 30.—The government of Constantinople has abolished wedding gifts. This is part of a program to encourage marriage and national economy. Although gifts are prohibited, the aid to matrimony comes in the curtailment of expensive festivities.

Young Matron Finds Friends Assembled For Surprise

PLEASANT surprise awaited Mrs. Raymond Baxter on an evening of recent date, when she returned from a little theater party to find everything in readiness for an even pleasanter party at home.

Upon opening the door, she found a group of friends assembled and a table beautifully decorated and arranged for sixteen guests. In the center was a big cake glittering with candles in honor of her birthday.

Assembled for the pleasant evening and extending good wishes and congratulations to Mrs. Baxter were her husband, Raymond Baxter and their little daughter, Margaret, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. George Baxter, at whose home, 811 Brown street, the pleasant affair was staged, Mrs. Clifford Prunty, Mrs. Ethel McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smith, Mrs. S. A. Griffin of San Pedro, Rowan Baxter of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Baxter and two children, Marian and Robert, and Miss Frances Dalzell of Vancouver, B. C., a house-guest in the Baxter home.

Engaged Pair Honored At Gift Shower

Following immediately upon the announcement of Miss Pauline Black's betrothal to Charles Patterson, was a delightful miscellaneous shower planned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Black at their suburban home, last Saturday night.

Quantities of lilies and carnations decked the home in honor of the event. A series of games, planned by Mrs. Black who was aided by Mrs. F. A. Wiley of Yuma, Ariz., offered lively entertainment although the greater part of the evening was devoted to examining the many handsome gifts bestowed on the happy young people. At a late hour the hostess served appetizing refreshments to the assembled guests.

Both Miss Black and her fiancé are graduates of Garden Grove high school, and popular in a large circle of friends. They have not yet disclosed the date selected for their marriage beyond the statement that it will be an event of early summer.

Guests asked to the party in their honor were from various nearby communities and included Messrs. and Mesdames C. P. Cunningham and family, R. A. Patterson and children, Hattie Jane and Lloyd; Brook Stroud, Farnsworth, Hickman, Frank Annin and children, Virginia and Kenneth; Alfred Abbot, W. M. Fitch and son Merle, H. N. Crandall and son, T. WHAT COUNCIL DID

ACCEPT DEEDS FOR LANDS ON FLOWER STREET

Miscellaneous matters taken up at last night's council meeting included acceptance of deeds to property required for opening of North Flower street, report of the playground committee and action to hasten the construction of a sidewalk on east side of Sycamore street, between Tenth and Washington.

In accepting the property for opening of North Flower street, between Seventeenth and Santa Clara, to be 80 feet wide, now planted to walnuts and oranges, the question came up whether the property owners or the city should bear the expense of removing the trees. No decision was made, however, pending further arrangements.

Trustee C. H. Chapman, appointed to represent the council in negotiations with the city board of education, on playgrounds, reported that so far he had been unable to attend a meeting of the school board because of the fact that the regular meeting set for last week was called off in the last moment, and since that time no special meeting has been called by the school authorities. He added, however, that as soon as the school trustees call a meeting, he will lay the matter before them.

A 30-day notice was served on the property owners of the east of Sycamore street, between Tenth and Washington, to have sidewalk installed, or work begin within that time.

Steps to make the residents of the newly annexed southwest district bona fide voters of the city, thus giving them representation on the council, were taken last night by the city fathers when the city attorney was directed to bring in recommendations for incorporating the annexed section to one of the five election wards.

Mayor F. L. Purinton suggested that arrangements be made at once to extend all municipal services to the newly annexed portion, in which connection the council resolved itself into a committee of the whole to investigate the water situation in the district.

The council will meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the city hall, whence, accompanied by the city engineer, the superintendent of the water department, the fire chief and other department heads, they will proceed to the new district.

Local Brethrens Defeat San Diego

Playing their best game of the season, the United Brethren church basketball team of Santa Ana overwhelmed the United Brethren church squad of San Diego, 35 to 18, at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Rademacher, with 15 points, was high point man. The lineup:

Santa Ana	Pos.	San Diego
Hong (8).....F.....	(13)	Green
H. Rade-macher (15).....F.....	(4)	Smith
Harter (6).....C.....	(5)	Oleson
Edwards (4).....G.....	(1)	Love
Casey (5).....G.....	(1)	Raney
Substitutions: Santa Ana—Sullivan for Hong, C. Rademacher (2) for H. Rademacher. San Diego—Drown for Smith, Sweiger for Love.

Youth Sentenced On Theft Charge

Charged with petit larceny, Antonio Hernandez, 20, yesterday was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail. Two companions, arrested at the same time, and both younger than Hernandez, were dismissed.

Hernandez is alleged to have stolen a key from an automobile in the Mendonhall used car lot, when he and his companions were viewing cars with the intention of buying.

The arrests were made by B. A. Hershey, city officer, who is alleged to have found the missing key under the front seat of another automobile.

Late Recorder's Furniture To Be Given Daughter

Echoes of the time when the late Col. W. F. Heathman was dispensing "Santa Ana" justice to violators of the traffic laws were heard last night at the council chamber, when the city dade directed that office furniture belonging to the late city recorder, still gracing the premises of that office, be turned over to his daughter, Mrs. Vera Heathman Cole, 162 Linwood place, Riverside.

COUNCIL ASKS LOUISE STREET PAVING PLANS

At its regular meeting, held last night, the city council directed the city engineer, Nat H. Neff, to bring in plans and specifications for the opening and paving of Louise street, from Eighth to Seventeenth street. It also was suggested that in this connection the superintendent of the water department submit plans for installation of water service.

Coupled with the action taken by the council, it was brought out that some of the owners of property deeded to the city for street purposes, have failed to remove the walnut trees located on the right-of-way. According to Councilman George McPhee, the original agreement between the city and the property owners, was that the latter should remove the trees standing on the deeded property at their expense. He also called attention to the fact that some of the property owners have lived up to that agreement and, in turn, expect the city to go ahead with the opening of the street.

Mayor F. L. Purinton opined that while it was true that such an agreement had been entered into with the property owners, now, since the city is the owner of the property, the removal of remaining trees should be done at public expense.

THREE FACE JAIL ON SPEED CHARGES

Although there were about 50 arrests made by Orange county state traffic officers on the highways of Orange county Sunday, only three motorists face jail sentences for speeding 50 miles an hour or over, records in the state office show.

W. J. Senecal, 3154 Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles, was arrested for speeding 50 miles an hour on the Irvine boulevard; Jose Herera, 61 Myrtle, is charged with speeding 51 miles an hour, and Irving Glasser, 108 Los Angeles, has a ticket charging speeding 55 miles an hour. They are expected to appear in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this week to answer to the charges. There were no women arrested over the week end on speed charges.

Alleged Drunken Driver Released On Bail of $500

Charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, Harold Palmer, 38, Hollywood man, who was arrested following an automobile accident at Fourth street and Grand avenue, Sunday night, in which several persons were slightly injured, yesterday was held to answer to the superior court, when he was arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

He was freed on bail of $500, cash, which was furnished by a friend.

The arrest was made by Officer V. Mohn, of the Santa Ana police force, who arrived at the scene of the accident soon after the crash had attracted the attention of about 50 persons in the neighborhood.

Auto Stolen In Los Angeles In 1924 Recovered

An automobile, which was stolen from a Los Angeles street in October, 1924, has been found in Santa Ana, through Santa Ana police officers. The car, at the present time, is at the police station, awaiting to be claimed by an insurance company.

The machine, found abandoned by Santa Ana's new night patrol on March 22, on Cedar street, between First and Walnut streets, was the property of E. H. Williamson, Los Angeles, it was learned yesterday.

Williamson had the machine insured against theft and, when it was stolen, the company paid him full coverage. Representatives of the insurance company have been asked to come to Santa Ana and claim the machine.

COUNCIL HEARS COMPLAINTS ON TRUCK TRAFFIC

How the provisions of the state motor vehicle act, permitting trucking companies, transporting heavy loads, the use of what might be termed residential streets, are working a manifest injustice to property owners, who are charged with the maintenance and upkeep of the streets, were told last night at the city council meeting.

According to complaints voiced by residents living at Eighth and Baker streets, the continuous traffic of heavy trucks, carrying capacity loads, not only is constituting a nuisance in a residential district, but is increasing the wear and tear of the pavement, shortening its life by a considerable period.

The complaint was referred to City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., who, while admitting that there was considerable merit to the arguments of the complainants, told the council that the city authorities have no jurisdiction in the premises. Under the provisions of the state motor vehicle act, municipal authorities are prohibited from enacting legislation which would close public thoroughfares to heavy motor traffic. The only thing the city authorities could do to bring about relief is check trucks for overload.

SIGNAL BELLS ARE CALLED DANGEROUS

The old type signal bell, installed many years ago at railroad crossings, before the electric signal came into use, not only is obsolete but dangerous and misleading to motorists, according to City Trustee Stanley Goode, who last night, at the city council meeting, urged their replacement by modern danger signals.

He called attention to the fact that the bells cannot be heard by drivers of closed cars, particularly in inclement weather or when hearing is diminished by noise created by running motors.

He supplemented his observations with a motion that City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. be directed to make proper representations to the Southern Pacific Railroad company to the end that all old type signals be replaced with wigwags. The motion was carried with an unanimous vote and the city attorney was instructed accordingly.

Runaway Boys Are Held for Parents

Three Los Angeles boys, out to see the world and headed for San Diego, were taken in charge by police officers last night and are being held in the county detention home until their fathers come after them. The fathers were notified last night.

The boys are West Atkin, 15, 1228 West 103rd street; Cyrus Ferguson, 13, 1118 West 103rd street, and Vern Hurst, 11, 1315½ West 107th street, Los Angeles.

The trio was arrested by Officer V. Mohn, at 6 o'clock last night.

Tapping a Rubber Tree on a U. S. Rubber Company Plantation

The United States Rubber Company now owns over 7,000,000 rubber trees—more than 5,000,000 of them are already producing rubber for U. S. Tires and 20,000 employees are engaged in caring for them.

Here are the Answers to Your Questions on the American Rubber Supply and Automobile Tires

Q—Where does America get its rubber?

A—The only important source of rubber for all the world is the rubber plantations in the Far Eastern possessions of Great Britain and Holland.

Q—Is America represented among the Far Eastern rubber planters?

A—Yes, the largest of all these Far Eastern plantations is owned and operated by the UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY.

Q—Do the United States Rubber Company Plantations produce any considerable quantity of rubber?

A—Yes, they produced 20,000,000 lbs. of rubber in 1925, and in the next few years the output will be increased about 75%.

Q—Then the growing of rubber by Americans for Americans is not a new thing?

A—No. In 1909, this company acquired their vast tracts of ideal rubber growing land in Sumatra and Malaya.

Q—How large are the U. S. Rubber Plantations today?

A—The U. S. Rubber Company Plantations now comprise about 136,000 acres, with over 7,000,000 rubber trees, sixty miles of narrow-gauge railway, and 200 miles of motor roads. They give employment to 20,000 people.

Q—What does all this mean to me as a buyer and user of United States Tires?

A—The United States Rubber Plantations and their results have brought many benefits to every user of U. S. Rubber products of all kinds. For instance:

1. Latex-treated Web Cord, one of the outstanding major improvements in tire-building, announced by this Company in 1922.

2. Sprayed Rubber, the new standard of purity in crude rubber, of direct benefit to every user of any U. S. Rubber product.

3. In addition, during the past 17 years, the U. S. Rubber Plantation Experts have conducted thousands of successful researches into improving rubber by improving the rubber trees.

Q—What is Latex-treated Web Cord?

A—This is the new cord structure for cord tires, combining maximum strength with maximum flexibility. Questions and Answers on Latex-treated Web Cord will be published shortly.

Q—What is Sprayed Rubber?

A—Sprayed Rubber is the new pure rubber. It is free from both acid and smoke. Questions and Answers on Sprayed Rubber will also be published at an early date.

Q—Will America ever be reasonably independent in its rubber supply?

A—Probably so, in the course of time. For instance, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will probably yield 15 per cent more rubber in 1926 than in the past year.

CREPE HANGERS IN SOUTHLAND CRITICIZED BY P. E. OFFICIAL

Great Prosperity of 1925 Told in Address Before Joint Chamber Meeting

SPEAKER PRAISES GEORGE A. RAYMER

City Board of Trustees Is Urged to Take Advantage of Advertising Tax

"The days of piffle and high falutin' diplomacy between public utilities and municipalities are over. The prosperity of one means the prosperity of the other. Cooperation is the only means by which both can advance their respective interests."

This was one of the outstanding thoughts expressed last night at the joint meeting of the senior and junior divisions of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, at St. Ann's Inn, by Ed. Thomas, assistant to the president of the Pacific Electric Railway system. Thomas did not definitely promise that the company would build a new depot in Santa Ana, although he admitted that such action was within the realm of possibilities.

Slap At Crepe Hangers

He struck a knockout blow to those persons whom he described as hanging crepe on the prosperity of the Southland. The oil output in 1925 was greater than in 1924 in the Los Angeles basin, the bank clearings showed an increase, the building permits were higher, the money derived from the sale of crops was higher and in other instances the figures of 1924 were far surpassed by those of 1925, he showed by his statistics.

Thomas urged that the city trustees take advantage of the state statute, which permits taxation for the purpose of raising an advertising fund for the exploitation of the city. By this means, he declared, an insured income may be secured for the chamber of commerce and the non-resident property owner can be made to do his share toward paying for the development of the city instead of reaping the profit from higher valuation without contributing a cent to the general welfare. He said that he was glad to see the new blood injected into the chamber work and that harmony had been brought about, a fact which, he said, would do much toward keeping Santa Ana in the van among the cities of the Southland.

Raymer Is Lauded

George A. Raymer, secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, was described by Thomas as being one of the three outstanding commercial secretaries in Southern California. The others he listed were Roy Mack, of San Bernardino, and Earl Porter, of Inglewood, the city in which the speaker resides.

President Clyde Downing of the senior chamber outlined a resolution, adopted by the directors of the senior division, in which the support of the organization is pledged the city trustees in the call for a bond election for the purpose of providing funds for the extension of the outfall sewer, the purchase of two sites for city parks, together with proper equipment, and the creation of an advertising fund, a part of which

PRETTY SAN PEDRO SCHOOL TEACHER ENTERS JAIL TO SERVE TERM FOR SPEEDING

Lucile Cattermole, 24, pretty little school teacher, of 580 West Fifteenth street, San Pedro, last night decided not to fight her case of speeding in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court and, accompanied by her sister and other relatives, appeared at the Orange county jail, prepared to spend five days behind the bars.

Miss Cattermole, in her cell in the women's quarters today, absolutely refuses to discuss her case, her views of speeding and motor cops with reporters. She wouldn't even allow one to come to her cell door. In fact, she told Mrs. Sam Jernigan, matron, that she didn't understand why reporters were shown the jail records, which disclosed the fact that she was in jail.

Miss Cattermole was arrested several weeks ago on the Irvine boulevard by Pat Hurd, state motorcycle officer. He charged that she was speeding 50 miles an hour and 50 miles in Orange county has, for months, spelled a jail sentence to motorists found guilty.

The school teacher was busy in her classroom in San Pedro and couldn't come to court, so she wrote to Justice Morrison and gained a continuance until her Easter vacation began, which was Saturday. She appeared here Saturday and the judge informed her that if she pleaded guilty, she would have to go to jail. At that time, she couldn't make up her mind, so she returned to San Pedro, telling the judge that she would let him know.

Last night counted as one day of the jail term and Miss Cattermole will come out Friday morning, soon after she has eaten her breakfast. Just how she will spend her time in jail is not known, but when she entered it was with a smile on her face and a traveling bag clutched in one hand.

85 CHAFFEE STORES BOUGHT BY SAFEWAY

What is considered one of the most important transactions in the history of the grocery business in Southern California was consummated today through transfer by purchase of the Chaffee chain of grocery stores to the Safeway stores, of which W. R. H. Weldon is president, according to P. McDonald, district manager, in charge of the Safeway stores in Santa Ana and Orange county, and William Beasley, district manager for the Chaffee stores in this section.

The 85 stores acquired are in Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and many cities in Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. The addition of the Chaffee stores gives the Safeway stores organization a total of 427 stores, extending from Bakersfield to San Diego.

A dinner in the Safeway central warehouse, Los Angeles, will be given tonight to about 200 of the former Chaffee store managers and other employees, who will become identified with the Safeway organization, according to the statement of McDonald and Beasley.

Big Percentage Pupils Retarded

Out of a total enrollment of 14,489 children in the elementary grades of the public schools in Orange county, not less than 1033 were retarded, requiring more than one year to cover the grade, according to figures contained in a special report prepared by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, for the information of the state board of education. Inquiries made at the superintendent's office disclosed that the low mentality reflected in these figures is practically confined to Mexican children, who, because of unfavorable living conditions, are unable to carry on the school work of certain grades within the prescribed time.

Brea Air Meet Plans Are Revealed

The very latest models in airplane designing and accessory manufacture will be displayed at the air meet, to be held at the Brea air field, near Loftus, April 24, under the auspices of the Brea Air club, according to announcement by Frank Mason, commodore of the club.

Mason was present at the meeting of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce last night and revealed the plans for the air meet. The Douglas airplane factory, of Santa Monica, has agreed to send its latest and fastest planes and other companies also are expected to exhibit new ships, Mason declared. The Anaheim lodge of Elks is assisting the air club in arranging the meet, which is expected to draw pilots from all over California. Substantial prizes will be offered, it was said.

NEW NUMBERS TO BE PLAYED AT MUSICALS

The concert to be given in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight will be the last public appearance of the Santa Ana Municipal band before it opens its series of summer concerts in Birch park, it was announced today by Harry Hanson, president and manager of the musical organization.

According to the manager, the band had been rehearsing for some time on the numbers to be given, the program containing all new selections, so far as band presentation here is concerned.

Trombone solos by D. Cianfoni, director, and vocal numbers by Ellis Rhodes, tenor, will be featured on the program of 10 numbers. Cianfoni will offer as one of his numbers, "Culius Anima," by Rossini, and Rhodes will sing "The Song of Thanksgiving" and "Just a Cottage Small."

Perhaps one of the most pleasing selections by the band will be "In the Clock Store," the piece offering opportunity for the band members to reproduce the ticking of clocks in a store. Arias from 10 operas will be another offering that should be pleasing to music lovers.

REV. ROBERTS DELIVERS HOLY WEEK SERMON

'Day of Conflict' Subject Of Address Before S. A. Rotarians, Exchangeites

The special guests at the Noon-day Holy week service today were members of the Rotary and Exchange clubs. The speaker was the Rev. William E. Roberts, of the Rotary club. Dr. Roberts chose for his topic, "The Day of Conflict." His sermon, in part, was as follows:

"The closing week of our Lord's life was a stormy one. He was at grips with His enemies in their own stronghold, Jerusalem. His contention with them was particularly manifest on the last Tuesday of His ministry. The day was packed with controversy.

"Their antagonism showed itself in the line and type of questioning to which they subjected Him; the chief priests and elders raised the question of His authority; the Pharisees and Herodians tried to corner Him by the question as to whether or not it was lawful to pay taxes to Caesar; the Sadducees asked capious questions about the Resurrection. He replied to them by His own line of questions; He uttered parables against them, and finally He denounced them in open discourse. So the conflict raged.

"Their motive was to discredit Him just as far as possible and to bring Him into disrepute with the people. His motive was to show the fallacy of their leadership and to let in the truth. This was the last day of His public ministry; therefore He concentrated all the powers of His being to bring the mind of the multitude to a knowledge of the true way to God.

"The immediate result of this conflict was the silencing of His enemies. They were sent away in confusion. He finished the day as Master of the field. But the further result was the Cross. While He validated His authority, He brought upon Himself the implacable hatred of the powers. He knew that He faced it without a tremor.

"Here is the impress we need to get of the Master on this final Tuesday; He knew the least must come and He accepted it. While He was the Prince of Peace, He did not shrink from joining issue where eternal principles were involved. "When the time came for Him to be received up He steadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem." He faced inevitable death because the salvation of men was wrapped up in His sacrifice.

"We must remember that there are always inevitable antagonisms to be confronted by men who will follow the Master. They are not of our making; they are here in the nature of things. Issues change with the changing world order; but the spirit of conflict between the principles of Christ and the ways of wickedness is permanent. Let us be careful not to covet popularity at the expense of truth. 'Woe unto you when all men shall speak well of you. For so did their fathers to the false prophets.' The harmony we should seek is harmony with God, and seeking it we should be willing to pay the price. This is true discipleship."

JERUSALEM AND THE TEMPLE, WHERE CHRIST SPENT TUESDAY OF HOLY WEEK

Here is a picture of modern Jerusalem, looking toward the Mount of Olives, with the dome of the Mosque of Omar rising in the middle distance. The mosque is believed to occupy the site of the Jewish Temple of Biblical times, from which Christ, on Tuesday of Holy week, drove the money changers.

S. A. MINISTER IS AFFORDED MURDER THRILL

The Rev. Frank Fairly, retired pastor of the Santa Ana Nazarine church had his first murder thrill in church in Downey last Sunday night, when he substituted morning and evening for the pastor of the Nazarine church there.

The Santa Ana man had just concluded his evening sermon when he noticed a man walk into his church and speak to a woman. The woman swooned and shouted, "I knew it would happen."

Subsequent investigation revealed that W. W. Walk had come to the church to notify his wife of the tragic ending of the life of a son-in-law, Herbert Moffitt, who was shot by another son-in-law, Cyril R. Wood, in the home of the latter.

While officers investigating the tragedy, assert that at an inquest, to be held tomorrow, evidence will be introduced to show that Moffitt was shot without provocation, witnesses to the family tragedy assert that Wood shot in self-defense. According to a statement to officers by the wife of the dead man, the trouble, which ended in the shooting, started Saturday night, when Mrs. Moffitt refused to accompany her husband to a dance because he was drunk.

She asserts that following her refusal, her husband dragged her into his automobile and, in a reckless manner, drove away with her. She escaped by jumping from the automobile and hiding in the woods. She then went to the home of her father and while a conference on the family trouble was being held Sunday night in the Wood home, Moffitt, still drunk, burst into the house and renewed the trouble. Wood defends his act by declaring that he shot his brother-in-law when the latter threatened him with a knife. The knife later was found near the body of the dead man.

W. J. Bright, in charge of the Los Angeles sheriff's homicide detail, says that he has information contradictory to the stories of the tragedy told by relatives.

PLANS FOR ANNUAL EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE AT MARCY HEIGHTS BEING COMPLETED

Plans were being completed today by the Rev. G. H. Burgess, pastor of the Richland Avenue Methodist church, and the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, for Easter sunrise services at Marcy Heights, it was announced today by the Rev. Mr. Burgess.

Worshippers will gather at the cross atop the hill at 5:45 a. m. when the services will start. The sermon will be by the Rev. Mr. Porter and prayer will be by the Rev. Samuel Edgar, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church.

Music will be by the orchestra of the Richland Avenue Methodist church, led by Charles Hurd. "The Holy City" will be played.

The services were instituted here some years ago by the Orange Christian Endeavor union and later the Santa Ana Ministerial association became sponsor for the beautiful early morning religious exercises.

It has been the custom of 400 or 500 Santa Anans to drive to the scene for proper celebration of the event commemorated by the services and it is anticipated that the attendance, Sunday morning will be as large as in past annual pilgrimages to the cross.

The location of the cross is on the crest of the Lemon Heights drive and may be reached by following this drive to the reservoir and then continuing for a short distance on the road across the "backbone," leading over to the Marcy gardens.

Blind pizs. since prohibition, have become quite numerous, but Orange county sheriff's officers claim the honor of discovering the first blind bootlegger.

The man may not be a bootlegger at all, in fact he pleads not guilty to the charge, but that is to be proven in court on April 8, at 10 a. m., when Mauro Hernandez, 44, Delhi blind man, comes up in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor.

Hernandez was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Smith, Combs and Flower, at Delhi, and a gallon of alleged liquor was said to have been found on his premises. Officers also claim that there were several holes found in Hernandez's back yard, which indicated, they said, that liquor had been buried there.

The alleged "blind bootlegger" pleaded not guilty, when given a hearing yesterday. His bail was fixed at $500, which he did not make.

FLORIDA REAL ESTATE BOOM IS SHATTERED, SAYS GUSTLIN

Santa Ana Musician, Now On Concert Tour, Writes Letter on Observations

THOUSANDS SEEKING EASY MONEY LEAVE

Great Exodus Under Way As Deflation Tends to Return Normal Conditions

Including his check for payment of his dues, Clarence A. Gustlin, Santa Ana musician, now visiting important cities on a concert and lecture tour, writes George Raymer, secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, from Jacksonville, Fla., some of his observations of conditions in that state. He also comments on possible activities by Santa Ana in promoting beautification of this city.

"It is generally acknowledged, even by Floridians themselves, that the 'boom' is 'busted,'" Gustlin writes. "However, there is the inevitable tendency to regard the facts philosophically and to settle down as easy as possible to a more normal condition, following what has been one of the most hysterical afflictions of this sort to ever befall any section of the country. Thousands of those who came to find 'easy money' have departed, weaker but wiser, financially speaking, I am told that some of the legends which decorate the cars returning north do not bear repetition. However, here's one that isn't so bad: 'Just been to Florida. Barium was right!'"

California Oranges Best

"Some of my Florida friends have just gratuitously given me their favorite recipe for making better lemonade. Very simple, they say: use a California orange! This hardly coincides with a report which I had from Chauncey Huff, in New York, a couple of weeks ago. Chauncey told me the California Fruit exchange recently conducted a scientific test for sugar and juice content of two boxes of representative Florida and California oranges and that the latter was a heavy winner in both respects. He also added that the California orange grower would be paying record-breaking income taxes next year, as a penalty for shipping such a quantity of rare quality fruit to the eastern market this season.

"We in California, should not get the idea that, because things have eased up a bit here in Florida, there is no need of exerting ourselves, by whatever legitimate means we may employ, to attract the eastern tourist and home-seeker. So intelligently have the Floridians developed their natural resources of beauty and attractiveness and supplied recreational facilities, charming resort hotels, golf courses, etc., that we

"f. h. b." on the potatoes!

That household code has found a new application. For what family held back on potatoes until now. Potatoes, of all things! But from an average price of $1.02 per bushel in 1913 they jumped to $3 per bushel in 1925. Don't ask us why. You know they did and the lowly spud is now enthroned with the luxuries.

We could if we would but we will not. Meaning that there are many other items of frequent use in the great families of Smith and Jones and their neighbors that have learned how to vault.

WEST COAST-WALKER.

Marie Prevost, the delectable little comedienne who did so much to make "The Marriage Circle," "Kiss Me Again" and "Bobbed Hair," successful, reveals herself as an actress of considerable emotional skill as well as an effervescent laugh-maker in "His Jazz Bride," the picture which closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater. And Matt Moore, playing the delightfully hesitant self who has made screen history as the leading exponent of the roles of humorously timid young men, shared stellar honors with her.

They are a perfect screen team, those two, and it is neither one nor the other, but the combination that makes "His Jazz Bride" a treat for those who love good acting.

Miss Prevost's role is that of a flapper wife, who cares not how her husband makes his money as long as she can spend it, and Moore is the husband, who finds the expenses of a jazz wife are far beyond his means, work what overtime he will.

They are supported by an excellent cast that includes Gayne Whitman, John Patrick, George Irving, Mabel Julianne Scott and others.

On the stage, Fanchon and Marco present "The Welsh Gleemen," an internationally famous choral organization composed of 14 male singers. Also featured on the bill are Arline Langdon in her own creation of "Pan-Amanian Dance," and Waggoner and Harris, the winning couple of the recent Examiner $5000 Charleston contest.

YOST THEATER

Otto Shafter, an eminent producer, brings an innovation to the Yost theater stage tonight—an Indian syncope orchestra with featured Indian entertainers such as Chief Howling Wolf and Princess Lillian. The aborigines, with one exception, play instruments used by modern dance orchestra, the one exception being a one-string Indian fiddle.

Capt. H. C. McIntyre, the world's greatest rifle shot, with the assistance of pretty Rose McIntyre, will present an artistic exhibition of sensational marksmanship. Captain H. C. McIntyre is ever on the alert for new ideas that can be incorporated into his program and offers $50 for a real sensational shot that he can use in his exhibition.

Willie Dunlay and Bessie Merrill, musical comedy stars, will appear in a brand new and up to date comedy song and talk skit entitled "So Long Broadway." This will be noticed as a new idea, which sparkles with wit and comedy.

Something new in miniature stage performances is expected from Charles Maxon and Jessie Morris. Diminutive figures, with faces so expressive that they seem alive, will perform a series of surprisingly ludicrous antics.

Miss Gracie Moy, "The Chinese Songbird," is the personification of coyness and grace in her presentation of special song numbers which she renders in a well trained mezzo soprano voice. She is a graduate of a number of American schools and colleges and thoroughly understands how to interpret the modern ballads and high class numbers she attempts.

On the screen, the Yost theater offers "The Wanderer," a picture featuring an all-star cast including Ernest Torrence, Greta Nissen, Wallace Beery, Tyrone Power, William Collier Jr., and Kathryn Williams.

Newcom sells Volck spray.

WEST END THEATER.

A musical comedy, irrespective of what success it may have achieved before the footlights on Broadway, is a difficult subject to register properly on the screen, but in the case of "Irene," Colleen Moore's latest production, there is, according to Alfred E. Green, the director, so much color, together with a perfect story, running through the episodes, that it is going to be hailed as something extraordinary wherever shown.

Miss Moore has made the fashion show the highlight of the picture, which is showing all week at the West End. Art directors have given the star and her company, which, besides the many principals, includes six of Hollywood's most beautiful model-actresses, some exceptionally attractive and massive settings. The fashion episode is filmed in a giant garden set several hundred feet in width. From a grand marble staircase, decorated with imposing pieces of statuary, the girls appear, wearing costumes depicting the four seasons of the year.

There are laughs aplenty in the story. Particularly the sequences in which Madame Lucy, enacted by George K. Arthur, and Miss Moore appear. Lloyd Hughes plays Colleen's leading man and her two girl friends are enacted by Bess Flowers and Marion Aye. Others of importance in the "Irene" cast include Charles Murray, Kate Price, Ida Darling, Eva Novak, Edward Earle, Lawrence Wheat, Cora Macy and Lydia Titus.

FLORIDA BOOM IS OVER, SAYS GUSTLIN

cannot neglect these things ourselves and expect to remain a successful competitor in the field. Every city of importance has outlined and is working toward a beautification program, under the guidance of artists and experts, with the result that one finds here a preponderance of that desirable type of citizenry which appreciates art, culture, and those refinements which a community can provide, granted that those in administrative authority themselves have the understanding of their value as civic assets.

"The farther I travel throughout the country, the more I am convinced of the fact that Orange county represents a section, absolutely unparalleled for resources, material and spiritual. By the latter, I mean those potential resources of beauty which we have so blindly neglected and have even defaced, in many instances. Instead of adding to the conglomeration of ugliness as represented in jazzy signboards, squalid fruit stands, oil stations, unsightly poles and wires, mutilated trees, etc., we should be eliminating these evidences of lack of civic pride and instead, be giving our attention to a constructive program of improvement which would include tree-planting, the establishment of parks and playgrounds, the building of roads into our charming mountain sections, the conservation of our coast line, providing sight-seeing facilities with which to lure the tourist, etc., ad infinitum. There is too much that is common, mediocre, careless, and indifferent about our general atmosphere which greets the visitor at present. We need to give our environment more 'class,' for want of a better word. Nature has done her part fully and with overflowing measure, but we have certainly hardly begun to do ours. And in my humble estimation, it is about time we were waking up and realizing the facts.

"I probably feel the importance of this matter a little more acutely because I have just come from Daytona Beach, where I had the opportunity of contrasting the work of that little city's chamber of commerce, the second largest in the world, they claim. This organization is taking a logical leadership in the sort of a beautification effort which I have referred to. The general public is backing every progressive move in this direction, and the results are easily apparent to the visitor. This is the tendency of the day, and it is certain that those communities which lag behind in these respects will certainly not reap the inevitable rewards of such progressiveness."

The Story of a Cool Smokestack

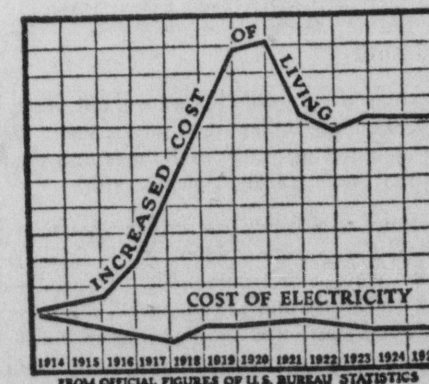

FIGURES are always interesting when they affect your pocket book.

In 1913 the Edison Company built one of the world's finest steam plants at Long Beach. The temperature in the smokestack was 650 degrees, and the plant made 225 kilowatt-hours from a barrel of oil.

Last year they built another steam plant. The temperature in the smokestack is 400 degrees and it makes 425 kilowatt-hours from a barrel of oil.

This is just one chapter in the story of progress resulting in lower prices for electricity than before the war while the average cost of all other commodities is 65% higher.

Think of this the next time you see the Long Beach steam plant.

Curling and Waving Dries Life from Hair

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Dandrine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 50-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandrine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

Don't dose a Child's Cold

CHILDREN hate to be dosed with medicine. Vicks VapoRub relieves colds, without dosing, in two ways at once. When rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime:—

(1) It is vaporized by the body heat and inhaled right to the inflamed air passages and lungs;

(2) At the same time it acts through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the pain, tightness and soreness.

Of course Vicks is just as good for the cold troubles of adults.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and gently stimulate the blood and gently purify the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after-effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 50c.

EXTORTION PAID WILL BE PAROLED

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—Bliss Baker and Russell Crawford, who attempted to extort $50,000 from D. C. Jackling, of San Francisco, copper magnate, will be paroled from San Quentin in six months, the state board of prison directors decided at its recent meeting at San Quentin, it was announced here.

The pair already has served six months for the "perfect crime," which they sought to perpetrate by informing Jackling they had kidnapped his wife. They were originally sentenced to not to exceed five years for attempting to extort money under threat.

Parole application of Gabe Nathan, alleged boxer artist, of Los Angeles, was denied.

The board, on recommendation of Superior Judge Carlos Hardy, voted on immediate parole to Grace Wall, who was sentenced to five years for manslaughter for the slaying of Willard Johnson, in Los Angeles, in August, 1923.

C. E. Barnum, former public administrator of Fresno, will be paroled when he has served another year. He already has been in prison one year on the charge of embezzlement.

The board decided to parole Louis Meehler, former Oakland patrolman, who was sentenced for accepting a bribe, when he has served 18 months. He has been in prison one year.

39 Attorneys Are Barred by Mellon

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has barred 39 lawyers from practicing before the treasury department.

A number of attorneys disbarred were convicted of attempting to influence auditors in decisions of tax cases involving millions of dollars.

Attorneys and their agents barred include:

Earl W. Auple, Los Angeles.
E. A. Stewart, Los Angeles.
S. E. Trolley, San Diego.

Kirby Will Head Williams Defense

SAN DIEGO, March 30.—Lewis R. Kirby, former district attorney, will be chief counsel for Col. Alexander Williams, it was unofficially learned here. The court-martial of Colonel Williams, charged by Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler with intoxication, is not expected to get under way until late next week, although the date set for the opening is April 6. The trial cannot start until the flag ship Seattle returns from Panama with two of the board members.

Our Neighbors

SAN BERNARDINO—Overwhelming victory for the junior college proposition was reflected in returns from the special election in San Bernardino county. The high school districts held last week. Average majorities of nearly 30 to 1 favored the formation of a union junior college district. Voters of the San Bernardino elementary school district carried the issue by a majority of nearly 60 to 1, with the Colton elementary district indicating its preference by almost the same ratio. Of a total of 2187 votes cast in the two high school districts, 3079 favored the junior college district and only 118 opposed it.

CLAREMONT—Thompson creek dam, about three miles northeast of here, is nearly half completed. C. H. Richards, flood control chief of the county, states: "Thirty-five to 40 per cent of the volume of concrete and gravel has been placed. Work on the east dam will begin about the last week in May. It will be 1350 feet in length and about 45 feet high. A great part of the $144,000 allotted, for the Thompson project under the $35,000,000 Los Angeles county flood control bond issue has been expended, and well placed, according to reports of economies which include getting the work done at about $4 a cubic foot as against some $3 wanted by private contractors.

GLENDALE—Organization of the Glendale Manufacturers and Shippers' association, designed to promote the industrial development of Glendale and to work out the solution of the problems that confront the city's manufacturers, was started at a meeting held last week.

WILMINGTON—Laying of pipe along the outer side of Terminal island, where the Los Angeles Athletic club's yacht harbor is to be constructed, is under way and the Franks Construction company is working on the dredge Seattle into condition for work in the near future. Approximately 60,000 cubic yards of silt will be removed from Fish Harbor on Terminal island and poured over the Athletic club's ground to complete the harbor work there. The dredging in the harbor will eliminate shoals which were said to be dangerous to the fishing craft which dock there.

SAN BERNARDINO—The largest single planting of trees in the San Bernardino mountains in 10 years was made last week, when officials of the U. S. forest service and Boy Scouts planted 3000 western yellow pine seedlings on the crest. The trees are for reforestation of a burned area between Kuffer canyon and Allison ranch in the vicinity of Baker's mill. The area is southeast of Lake Arrowhead on the crest of the San Bernardino mountains. The trees used were received by the forestry office here from C. M. Granger, district forester of the Washington and Oregon national forests. They were shipped March 23.

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

Julia Lathrop

The faculty of Julia Lathrop spent a most enjoyable evening last Tuesday on the invitation of Mrs. Ethel Sinks and Miss Mary Henderson at Mrs. Sinks' home on Orange avenue. The Saint Patrick's day motif was carried out most effectively in decorations and refreshments. One very novel feature of the evening's entertainment was the dramatization of two old Irish ballads. Miss Florence Kline and Miss Henrietta Foster won prize which was a characteristically green snake and a very green pig—"Paddy's," presumably.

A Manhattan salad of molded green gelatin, baked Irish potatoes containing creamed chicken, coffee and orange biscuits, completed the first course. A dessert of delicious pineapple ice served in green cups and small individual angel food cakes were served, while salted nuts in green crepe paper containers formed the centerpiece. The party was a most successful one and the guests all became confirmed Irish sympathizers before the evening was over.

Special Classes

Miss Dorothy Carothers' art appreciation class is studying Egyptian, Greek and Roman art.

The students of the Latin class are working on a class project. Each pupil makes an individual project, which is handed in to Miss Kline. When all are finished Miss Kline will bind them into one and thus have a class project. The work is interesting, as well as helpful, to the pupils.

Mrs. Nettie Wolf's class in English literature has been making an interesting study of the connection with Whittier's "Snow-bound." Instead of lending all attention to the poem, the class is featuring the author's life and writings in general. Not books containing illustrated bits of the poem serve to enhance the class interest.

Miss Beatrice Hart's Spanish V class has been making a most interesting study of the Basque people. The author, which gives an excellent account of these unique people, has proved valuable for reference work.

The fourth period cooking class under Mrs. Ethel Sinks' direction, has recently completed a contest between two sections of the class for points in home work and school work. The losing side gave the winning one a party at Mrs. Sinks' home last Wednesday evening.

At a recent meeting of Miss Elizabeth Bruner's 6C English class, Mrs. Bruner with Miss Peterson, gave a very interesting talk on her trip abroad in connection with Scott's "Ivanhoe" and the Shakespearean plays. Miss Peterson illustrated her lecture with pictures of the places having special historical and literary significance.

Accompanied by the high school Camp Fire group, the Julia Lathrop Camp Fire Girls hiked to Red Hill last Thursday afternoon. The girls enjoyed exploring the caves and the ceremonial meeting which followed. Supper was served and Miss Birdie Anderson, the guardian, assisted by talking the girls home in her car. Those attending the meeting were: Mary Reed, Alice Hansen, Evelyn Fairley, Mary Du Bois, Juanita Wallace, Rose Chuavenes, Mary Nansingumay and Marie Manning.

The fifth grade cooking class ended a demonstration from Wissman's of cake and cookie decoration with the De Luxe dainty pastry tub.

On Wednesday of the past week grade meetings were held where general discussions took place and several special speakers were asked to participate.

announced the Irish trend of the entertainment. Following the song was a short skit including the reading of an old Irish folk tale. An Irish dance directed by Miss Winifred Chalmers of the physical education department and a song, "Mother Machree," completed the first part of the program. The latter part of the program consisted of a very clever dialogue including a wax works of the famous old Irish characters who have come down to us through Irish ballads and folk lore.

Tennis Tournament

The school has been following with great deal of interest the tennis tournament which has been in progress during the past weeks. One hundred and ten girls have been working for the Lathrop girl championship in tennis. Miss Chalmers, the instructor, has arranged the tournament so that it may be played during the periods with the defeated players acting as umpires.

Champions for each period from the first to the fourth are: June Hawthorne and Ada M. Hendrickson, Jean Peacock, Leah Chaplin, Katherine Harbert and for the seventh period, Louise Masin.

On Monday of the last week Miss B. Pearl Nicholson's general class, once made a trip to the Santa Ana water works. Mr. Shippe, the chief, gave the class some very valuable and helpful information regarding the Santa Ana plant.

Under Miss Lella Thrasher's direction a group of the 6L citizen-ship class entertained the 5B citizenship class with a discussion of the topic, "The Bolshevik Menace to India." Various other topics were discussed and the two classes profited greatly by the Forum.

Bruner's 5B English class is making a study of the newspaper as to Types, Headlines, Items, etc., using the Santa Ana Register, Los Angeles Evening Express, Los Angeles Times and Daily News as examples for study.

New Faculty Member

A new member has recently been added to the Lathrop faculty. Mr. Bracewell of the Manual Training department is giving workshop instruction in the afternoons. ciety. She read the names of those who had made the honor roll.

The members of the society were called to the platform and special cheers were extended to them. They number 25 in all. The lists were published in the Willard Broadcaster a few weeks ago. Special mention was given to Adalruth Ellis because she has been in the Honor society for five consecutive semesters. Mrs. Thatcher presented her with a gold pin for that honor.

Lester W. Archer had charge of the athletic part of the assembly program and commended the boys very highly on their athletic records during the past quarter. Those who received monograms for basketball on the senior team were Yousel, Cooke, Webber, C. Stratton, Larson, Edwards, Hudgins, Quintana, Cummings, Johnsting and Niccaratti. Those receiving monograms for the intermediate team were: Hagthorpe, Oglesby, Regia, Sullivan, Speer, Hall and McGee. Those receiving monograms for the junior team were Goetting McCoy, Tarver, Heinely, Rodemacher, Paul, Heron and Wood.

W. M. Bracewell was coach for the seniors; Ralph Raltt for the intermediates, and Mr. Archer for the juniors. The intermediates surprised Coach Raltt by presenting him with a gold emblem of a basketball as a mark of their appreciation for the tireless and faithful work he has done for them.

Two boys, Clarence Spear of the 6A class and Asa Heron of the 3B class, have the distinction of receiving monograms and also being on the Honor society. The scarcity of boys on the honor roll an the Honor society was very evident. Mrs. Thatcher and Mr. Kellogg both mentioned this fact and urged the boys to make a better scholarship showing hereafter. The boys seemed to resent the idea that the girls had better brains than the boys so there is a strong possibility that the girls will not let the girls outshine them so completely again.

Three Cheers!

All are agreed that the 1A class assembly, under the direction of C. D. Chamberlin, came up to the expectations of the audience. Everyone knows that when Mr. Chamberlin had anything to do with a program that it will be a prize winner with something entirely unique, educational and entertaining.

Kenneth Beard, president of the class, made the opening remarks. The first act of the program was a delightful piano duet by the Rurup twins, Barbara and Louise.

Thelma Johnson then explained the play to be given which was a story of the early days of the constitution. The first scene was of the Indians and the early settlers and the drawing up of the constitution.

Lillian Herwitz next gave an interesting talk on Chinese musical notations. She was dressed in a beautiful Chinese costume of yellow and blue.

William Quon, a native of China, gave a demonstration of the many different Chinese musical instruments. This was very entertaining and instructive.

Harriet Morris explained the next scene which was to be given. This was a Chinese street scene. In her remarks she emphasized the advantages of knowing many foreign languages so that one could be of greater and broader service to the world.

The scene then followed and was complete with everything that might be observed in a street in Canton. Mr. Chamberlin and Betty Hawk as father and little daughter represented the two American travelers in China. All the other members of the class were in brilliantly colored costumes taking active parts as foreign citizens in the shops which were equally artistic and realistic.

An important feature of the scene was the entrance of the dragon which represented the superstition and belief in evil spirits. Mr. Chamberlin, still as an American traveler, was horrified at their ancient superstitions and beliefs and attempted to tell these foreign people the great necessity of overcoming these drawbacks if their nation ever expected to progress.

At the close of the assembly slips of paper were given out which contained questions of an educational type which could be answered by the careful observers of all that was said and done throughout the program.

Another important feature of this program was the presentation of a gift to Mr. Chamberlin by his class. This was without doubt the most worth-while program given by any class this year, and the entire student body appreciated the endless amount of work required to give it such a splendid entertainment.

Parent-Teachers

Diamond

The March meeting of the Diamond P-T-A. was a most interesting one, presided over by Mrs. E. W. Harmon in the absence of Mrs. E. M. Blake. Following the opening song and the routine of business, entertainment was offered by children of the school.

Several pretty spring songs and poems were rendered by the older children. Especially interesting was the pretty "Whip-poor-will" song by seven Japanese children from the primary grades.

At the social hour while Japanese mothers of the district were preparing refreshments to be served by their daughters in quaint native costumes, Mrs. Harmon related the story of the Dolls' Festival celebrated at this season in Japan. It is a very pretty story which centers around the little girls of the home.

The numerous delicacies served by the mothers were those offered to the officials

HOLD J. C. CONFERENCE MEET HERE SATURDAY

Style! Five little letters compose the word. And those five little letters probably give the average golfer more grief and worry than all the books and slices he makes combined.

When a putt is dubbed; when a mashie is badly played; when a drive slices Dan Diego and comes back into the rough via Florida points, style is blamed.

And worry over lack of style on the particular miscue is cause of much worry.

One failing to get a perfect mashie shot wonders what style Watts Gunn uses on it. Those who have never seen Bobby Jones drive wonder what style he uses in his driving after one hooks badly or fails to obtain average distance in the drive.

And style is the chief worry over it all.

It is true that a bad shot may be attributed to improper style in many instances. Then again, taking the eye off the ball and losing its line is something else that might justly receive blame for the miscue.

Taking the eye off the ball means lack of authoritative judge of distance. And judge of distance, a careful survey of the line of the ball and direction wanted, is of great importance.

Lack of considerations might be the fault of bad shots in many instances instead of style.

When Heinie Groh, New York third baseman, introduced his queer stance at the plate, critics scoffed at the idea. Claimed he'd fall. Heinie Groh didn't fall. He developed his own peculiar style to success without worrying.

When Carl Mays, the underhanded hurler of the same club, broke in with Portland in the Coast league years ago, his style was attacked bitterly. Carl didn't care. He developed his own style and stood many a big league club on its head as a result.

In the prize ring Johnny Dundee introduced a jumping style. Fight followers laughed at first. Dundee laughed last. The Scotch-Wop stuck to his own freak style to decided success, fortune and glory.

So, although one cannot pattern his golf style after Bobby Jones, one can obtain good results by sticking to one's own particular style, as long as that style affords ease and freedom.

After all the main idea is to hit the ball. And, in order to do this successfully, one must keep his eye on the ball and develop a judge of distance.

Monday Light Day In A. B. C. Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 30.—Monday was a comparatively quiet day at the American Bowling Congress tournament here. Only three new names went into the standings and none of them is in first place.

"Big Jim" Giblin and Joe Bodis of Cleveland threatened the leaders of the doubles but fell short 19 pins. They are in third place. They spilled a neat total of 1336 pins, Giblin contributing a 693 and Bodis a 643. F. Greif, also of Cleveland, appeared in tenth place in the singles with a big 684.

RICKARD SAYS JACK AND GENE TO MEET SOON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, March 30.—Tex Rickard claims to have signed Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney to meet for the world's heavyweight championship and he will seek permission of the New York Boxing commission to stage the match in the Yankee stadium early in September, despite Dempsey's denials.

Getting a permit from the commission will present more than a slight difficulty as the board has ruled several times that the champion must meet Harry Wills first and one of the members said today the commission would stick to its stand.

If the commission denies application of a license, Rickard will take the match to Jersey City. He said this morning that the report that he would build a new stadium here was bunk.

Rickard was waiting on word from Dempsey as the contract was signed by Jack Kearns and the champion has indicated several times that it was not binding. "There will not be any question about it," Rickard said. "I have had an understanding with Dempsey ever since I signed him to meet Jess Willard. I also have had Tunney signed for some time to meet one of four opponents that would draw with him."

Rickard said the pair had agreed to accept percentage, but he would not let Dempsey had been assured of at least $450,000. Tunney, who is getting ready for some movie work in California, said he would try to force Wills into a fight if the other plans fail.

"Dempsey has been kidding him along for a year and he hasn't a chance to get a bout for the title," Tunney said.

COUNTRY CLUB DIRECTORS TO BE NAMED SOON

Four members of the board of directors of the Santa Ana Country club, one of whom has served continuously for approximately 15 years, will retire from office April 19 when the local golfing organization holds its annual meeting at the clubhouse.

Those whose terms will expire are Lew Wallace, who has served on the board since the organization of the old Orange County club; John L. Wheeler, E. S. Gilbert and J. F. Parsons.

The club's committee, it was learned today, has nominated eight members, from which four will be elected to succeed the retiring directors. Those nominated are Felton B. Browning, Harvey A. Gardner, J. E. Liebig, R. O. Winkler, V. V. Tubbs, Williams H. Spurgeon Jr., Guy J. Gilbert and A. W. Griffith.

Directors who remain on the board include Ed McWilliams, H. B. Van Dien, R. A. Emison, C. G. Twist, W. E. Chilson, C. E. Downie and J. W. Tubbs.

Golf play was begun in both Classes A and B for the President John L. Wheeler cups over the past week-end. The club's champion, L. H. Robinson, went down to defeat before F. E. Farnsworth, 5 and 4, in the tourney's major upset in dope.

Results follow:

Class A
J. W. Tubbs defeated L. W. Beaus, 3 and 2; Z. E. West Jr. won from C. W. Holcombe, 2 and 1; F. E. Farnsworth defeated L. H. Robinson, 5 and 4; Jimmy Livesey defeated N. Hoyle, 1 up; Hugh Shields defeated Dr. M. A. Patton, 3 and 2; Robert E. Reid won from C. G. Twist, 1 up; William Rohrbaugh won from L. E. Clark, 2 and 1; C. H. Way won from Ed Holmes, 1 up.

Class B

H. H. Williamson won from C. W. Baxter, 2 and 1; Dr. C. R. Lane defeated Dr. W. C. Bubols, 2 and 1; Dean Collier won from Lew Wallace, 3 and 2; Harvey Gardner won from R. G. Cartwright, 5 and 4; W. A. Huff, 3 and 2; L. M. Forney defeated E. K. Gerhardt, 1 up; F. H. Schuttler defeated W. N. Smith, 6 and 5; Don Andrews won from F. G. Pinkerton, 3 and 2; J. J. Harrison won from L. R. Kennedy, 4 and 3; Asa Hoffman won from A. W. Rutan, 2 and 1.

Five Twirlers In P. C. L. May Pitch Spitball

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—The spitball pitcher is slowly but surely fading out of the picture.

The list of pitchers eligible to use the spitball in the Pacific Coast league, made public today by President Harry Williams, shows that only five active twirlers remain in the circuit.

Oakland has two, Harry Krause and Al Gould. Sacramento has Bill James. Los Angeles has Otis Crandall and Hollywood has Frank Shellenbach.

PHILLIES HAVE NO PENNANT HOPES BUT MEAN TO BATTLE

Manager Fletcher of the Phillies expects much from Jack Bentley and Wayland Dean this season. Bentley, a made-over hurler, will play first base, with Dean taking his turn in the box. Both players were acquired from the Giants via trade during the winter.

By BILLY EVANS

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 30.—Pennant conjecture doesn't even get a slight rise out of Manager Art Fletcher of the Philadelphia Nationals.

At present his chief thought in life is developing a ball club that will make interesting competition for the rest of the National league.

Manager Fletcher makes no pretense at pennant aspirations but, take it from me, any club prepared over by the former Giant star is certain to play interesting baseball. That's his style.

Fletcher, trained by John McGraw, a natural aggressive ball player, has no use for the drones. He wants only athletes who are always giving their best, regardless of how good or bad it may be.

Win Is Watchword
Winning ball games is the watchword of the Phillies.

"Not we haven't got the pennant fever," remarked Fletcher. "I discussed his ball club with him. The big idea is to win every ball game we can on the theory that you can't worry about those you lose and bring them back. "I would say my ball club is at least 20 per cent stronger than last season, maybe 30 points better."

Jack Bentley will play first base better than it has been played for the Phillies in years, while his batting is certain to be a factor. Friberg, at second, is sure to help us. He is the best man at that position since I have had charge of the club. Incidentally, he's a dangerous batsman. The ability of Sand at shortstop is known and needs no comment. At third, Huber, not flashy, is very dependable."

Pitching Staff Better

Better pitching is another reason why Fletcher believes his club should be more formidable. The Philly manager feels that Wayland Dean will win for him. As a matter of fact, he is hopeful that the former Giant will turn in as many victories as does Jimmy Ring for New York.

"There is no doubt about Dean's ability," said Fletcher, "and I believe that I understand his temperament perfectly. Dean doesn't thrive on criticism; few players do. I have told him that all he has to do for me is win ball games; that the pitching of the game will be entirely up to him. He won't get any suggestions from me."

100 ATHLETES AWAIT ANNUAL TRACK CLASSIC

Preliminaries in Hurdles, Sprints Carded for Poly Field Tomorrow P. M.

Eighty-one athletes will toe their marks in the annual Southern California junior college track meet here Saturday. It was initiated by the athletes that were today in the hands of Coach Graham Harris, Santa Ana mentor, who is managing the classic.

Late entries from Pomona and El Centro are expected to swell the list of competitors to more than 100. Six junior colleges already are in the field for the big cinderpath affair.

Preliminaries in the sprints and hurdle races will be held tomorrow on the Poly oval in order to cut the field for the finals Saturday.

Santa Ana boasts what is said to be the best aggregation of track stars in the history of the colleges and Coach Graham Harris is confident of capturing the conference title. Riverside junior college has an even chance with Santa Ana. Pasadena also must be watched.

Preliminaries Important

Much depends on whether the athletes of the colleges qualify in the preliminary heats. Herbert Strochem and Charles Webber should have little difficulty qualifying in the 100 and 220 yard dashes for the locals. Captain Everett Lutz and Webber are counted on to place in the low sticks and Webber and Cate will be in the high hurdles.

Quarter milers of Santa Ana have virtually the entire fields to themselves. Except for Jones, captain of the Riverside team, here isn't any 440 men that can compare with Craig Lewis, Bob Lancaster, Donald Squires, Lawrence Koix and Russell Koix, all of whom can circle the track in close to 54 seconds.

"Dark Horses" Feared

Any upsets in the preliminaries will affect chances for the title. Santa Ana will need every place that the dope conceals, Harris said today.

"Dark horses" of unknown ability from the small conference colleges are hard to figure. Judging from past performances of the athletes that are to compete, the meet will be a duel between Santa Ana, Pasadena and Riverside.

How close the meet will be was indicated when Coach Graham Harris took out his pencil and pad to dope out places. In case of a question, he allowed the rival schools the benefit of the doubt. When the point totals were added up, a tie score of 591-3 points was credited to both Santa Ana and Riverside with Pasadena and Chaffee ranking well up.

BRUINS, MISSOURI TO MEET SATURDAY

BERKELEY, Calif., March 30.—Twenty-two corn-fed athletes from the state of mules and everlasting incredulity, known officially as the track and field squad of the University of Missouri, trooped out on the Berkeley oval today to further unkind their joints in preparation for their setto Saturday with the University of California.

The University of Missouri's track men haven't been in Berkeley since 1922, in which year they lost by the crushing score of 45 to 85 to a superior Golden Bear aggregation.

The Missourians, in tow of their coach, Bob Simpson, are this year a squad to be reckoned with. Simpson claims to have a man to match the best California can offer in each event. In addition they are in the pink of form, despite their long train ride.

The late Pancho Villa was the first Filipino to win a world's pugilistic title.

SANTA ANA LODGE ACTIVITIES

REBEKAH MEETING ATTENDED BY 150

Sycamore Rebekah lodge on Saturday night held a meeting, which was attended by 150 members, including a number of visitors in and out of the jurisdiction. Three applications for membership were received and plans were made for another of the lodge's dancing parties, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. C. D. Henderson, Mrs. John Crawford, who is the new district deputy, Mrs. Oscar Wilson, Mrs. George E. Peters, William A. Marryme and Mrs. Joseph Ryan were elected delegates to attend the grand assembly, to be held in San Francisco, May 11.

A jolly feature of the meeting was a grab bag, from which $6.70 was netted for the lodge treasury. Refreshments were served. A specially decorated table was provided for members who celebrated their birthdays in January, February and March. The honored members found their places by means of Easter cards. An Easter egg was at each cover. Japanese Iris and begonias were used for table decorations.

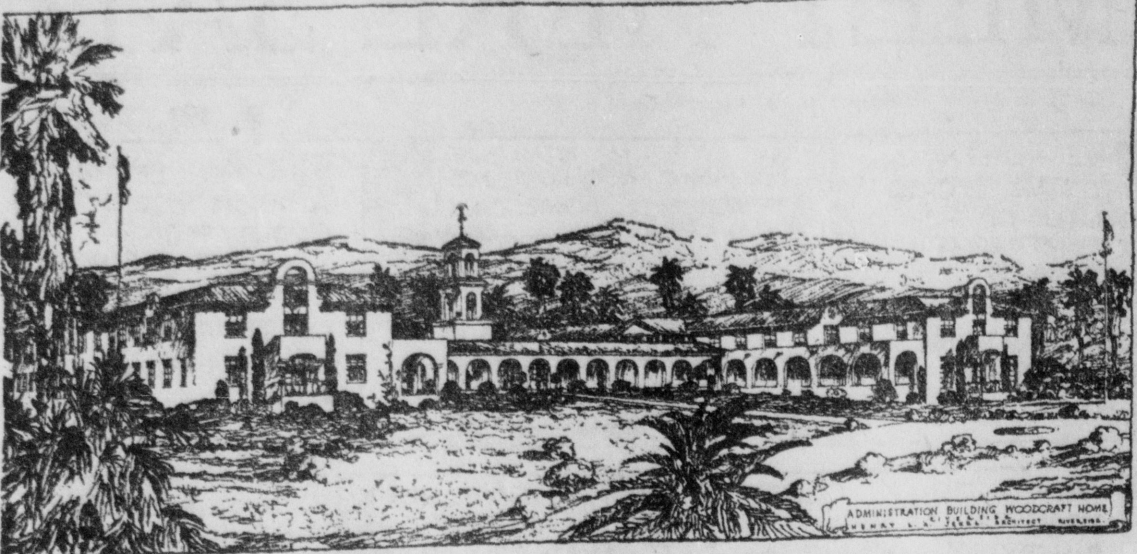

Candidates Taken Into Brotherhood

Waldo Paston, Mr. and Mrs. George Ashley, Mrs. Rosson, Mr. Newman, Miss Stevens, Miss Means and Miss Little were initiated into the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge, at the regular meeting Friday evening, in El Camino hall.

After the business session, dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be on April 2, and will be a social and dance, to which friends of members are invited.

NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION AT WOODCRAFT HOME

Above is pictured the administration building of the Woodcraft home at Riverside, which is now under construction. This building will cost approximately $200,000, and will contain 107 sleeping rooms, kitchen, dining room, auditorium, library and living rooms.

Grand Guardian Neighbor Tells of Institution At Riverside

By MINNIE HINER
Grand Guardian Neighbor of Woodcraft Home

The thought of a home for the members of the Neighbors of Woodcraft, should any of them ever reach the point in life when they were unable to financially and physically to make a home for themselves, had its inception 22 years ago, when a little group of the members of Laurastinus circle, No. 83, in Los Angeles started a Thimble club and planted a seed which has grown and developed until today we have invested and cash on hand in the Woodcraft

Home fund $315,139.93.

The Grand Circle session, which convened in 1917 at the headquarters of the Neighbors of Woodcraft in Portland, Ore., gave its official authority for the grand board of managers to proceed to establish such a home. Because of the war, however, little was done until 1920, when a site-viewing committee was appointed and all sections of our jurisdiction which comprises the nine western states, were notified to send in what they might consider would be a suitable site upon which to establish a home.

Three States Submit Sites.

Sites were submitted from the states of Oregon, Washington and California, and the site-viewing committee personally visited each site submitted, after which a meeting was held and reports were submitted. By a process of elimination, California was chosen as the state. Very carefully and in detail each of the sites submitted from California were discussed and by the same process of elimination all sites were eliminated excepting one near San Jose and the one in Riverside. Another committee was appointed consisting of the grand officers to personally visit these two sites and make a decision. The site in Riverside was chosen because of its great beauty and excellent climatic conditions.

The present site of 65 acres was purchased March 10, 1920, and since that time the old barns were wrecked and a group of 10 buildings erected, which are as modern and up-to-date as anything of its kind in Southern California.

A new hospital building for the care of the helpless guests has also been erected and at the present time the main administration building is under construction. This building, when completed, will cost approximately $200,000, and contain 107 sleeping rooms, kitchen and dining room facilities, auditorium, library and living rooms.

The principal product of the farm is alfalfa hay, but sufficient fruit and vegetables are raised to supply the home. Stock at the home consists of two splendid work teams, 15 head of cows and young stock, 30 head of hogs, about 600 chickens, turkeys, ducks and rabbits.

During September, 1917, the Woodcraft home will be dedicated. At the present time, there are 41 guests in the home. No one but members of the order are eligible to its privileges and must have been a member at least 10 years before they are permitted to enter the home.

DeMolay Order Plans for Dance

A dance is to be held by the Santa Ana chapter, Order of DeMolay, on April 10, it was decided at the DeMolay meeting last Saturday, in the Masonic temple.

The dance is the first open social entertainment of the year that the DeMolay chapter has undertaken. Charles Searls is chairman of the committee.

Several activities are in view for the chapter during April. A grun hunt is to be an event of April 16. For the last meeting of the month, the two degrees of the chapter are to be conferred on new candidates.

DINNER IS HONOR TO STAR OFFICER

In honor of District Deputy Grand Matron Caroline Carter, was the dinner given in the Masonic temple recently by members of the Order of Eastern Star.

The banquet room and parlor were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers in pastel shades and at each place at the table was a small colonial doll provided through the efforts of Mrs. Amelia Crathor, chairman of the entertainment committee.

After the dinner, the various degrees were conferred.

Representing Hermosa and Santa Ana chapters, Elton Roehm, worthy patron of Santa Ana chapter, presented Mrs. Carter with a gold wrist watch, and Mrs. Sam Jernigan, worthy matron, presented her with a gold wrist watch bracelet on behalf of the staff officers.

Miss Esther Jean Davis, Herschel Clayton and William Sylvester sang several songs.

Neighbors Asked To L. A. Meeting

An invitation has been extended to Santa Ana circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, by Laurastinus circle, No. 83, of Los Angeles, to be present at the meeting, Tuesday, April 6. Several grand officers will be at the meetings.

All members desiring to attend are requested to notify Mrs. Martha G. McElree not later than Friday of this week.

The Thimble club will meet with Mrs. Grace Gross, 1089 West Seventeenth street, Friday, for an all-day meeting, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon. Members are requested to bring thimbles.

The WOMAN'S DAY

Chatterings!
Girl students of New York university are ordered to cease their boxing bouts till the faculty decides whether or not such pastimes are altogether fitting and proper for young damsels. Perhaps, who knows, this modern woman stuff is to be curbed!

There are no new causes for divorce, according to figures from the Yale Divinity school. Divorces have increased, true, but the proportion of men and women making complaint remains even as it was 20 years ago, and desertion, cruelty, infidelity, and drunkenness, continue to lead the list as marital disturbance causes.

Now they're fussing as to just who's to blame for the skinny birth rate. Health commissioners blame housing conditions and inflated standards of living which make men and women marry late in life when we have enough. Birth control devotees say that their doctrine did it, even as did little Cock Robin. Hospitals are decent enough to admit that their high prices in maternity wards have something to do with it. Neurologists say that woman is diverting her energies into other channels than child-bearing.

In Our Schools
A certain hamlet of New Jersey is all riled up because its teachers demand Oriental and not plain domestic rugs in their teachers' room. The board sardonically opines that "they'll be wanting old masters on the walls next."

Well, what of it? Do you want females teaching your children to instill in them love for good things or don't you? And if you want your offspring taught culture, you might as well make up your mind to pay for it! And there's the vicious circle again of "the high standard of living" that makes paupers of us all!

Hooray, Skinny! They're making the arithmetics over. Pedagogues say that the old problems about eating one-fourth of an apple and how much will Willy have left, are all blooey! Modern life goes by decimals and not fractions, they say, shooting one-fourth and three-fourths from the kids' books. S'all right, maybe, only if you yank everything out of the school books that isn't in "modern life," the empty covers will flap dismally in the wintry blasts!

Tidbits
Dye ever make sandwiches of sardines, hard-boiled eggs, sliced thin, and lettuce with a dash of lemon, all on rye bread? Wunnerful! Dye ever make French berry pie? Open-faced variety of cream base with stewed berries over the top sprinkled with sugar? Superb!

The Printed Page
George Washington, well known daddy of his country, bought his wife Martha's dresses. This news seeps from the new "Family Life of George Washington," by Charles Moore. We read that George ordered for Martha from London serivants "a salmon-colored Tabby of the enclosed pattern, with satin flowers, to be made into a sack and coat, a cap, handkerchief, tucker and ruffles to be made of Brussels lace, or point, proper to wear with the above negligee, to cost 20 pounds, together with satin shoes, both black and white, of the smallest size."

George seems, too, to have been a good daddy. He sends a copious list for Master Custis, six, and Miss Custis, four.

Is Woman Free?
Mothers of New York do not have the same authority over legitimate children that fathers do, but bear all the brunt of illegitimate parenthood. In Florida, a married woman cannot control her own property, her services belong to her husband, and she cannot choose her legal residence. In Maryland, fathers can will children away from mothers. Fathers are given almost complete control over their children.

Human Behavior
The personal engraved calling card may serve for an informal luncheon or tea invitation with the time and date and R. S. V. P. written in over and under name of hostess.

A Thought

UNDERSTANDING

Last night I heard a lady sing
A classic bit and olden,
Her voice, it did so clearly ring
As though her throat were golden.

She thrilled as only song birds can
And set my heart a-flutter,
Said I unto my neighbor man,
"No word I hear her utter."

"Tra, la, la, la is all I get,
If these are words, I doubt it.
That song is very lovely, yet
I'd like the truth about it."

He whispered low, "the lady pale
A tender thought discloses,
The song is of a nightingale Whose passion for a rose is.

"The bird pours out his love in song,
But fails her heart to carry,
For she has loved a sunbeam long
And she has loved a sunbeam long

And plans with him to marry.
"The sorrow-stricken nightingale
Up to the sky goes winging,
And dies"—so runs the little tale—
"In one great burst of singing."

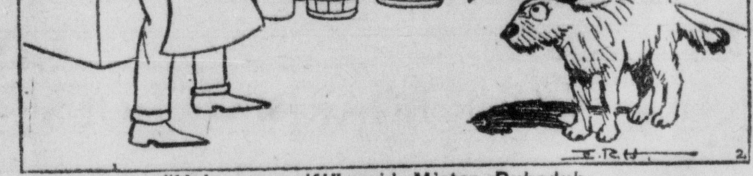

Then seeing what from me was hid
I strangely learned to love it,
And knowing what the lady did
I caught the beauty of it.

Thought I; perhaps in after years
We'll find our doubts were treason
And catch the beauty of our tears
When we have learned the reason.

Though sorrow fills us with despair
And life is ne'er without it,
We may see splendor everywhere
When we know more about it.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NO. 20—TATTERS WANDERS INTO FAIRYLAND

"Help yourself!" said Mister Rubadub.

"Bow, wow, wow! Woof! Woof! Woof, wow, wow!" went Tatters as he poked his nose around the little secret bush that hid the path to Scrub-Up Land.

The March Hare began to tremble and shiver so hard that he almost dropped his big book with the names in it.

"Dear! Dear! There's a dog. I'll have to hide," he cried breathlessly. "I'd like to know what he's doing here."

"Bow, wow, wow! Woof! Woof!" went Tatters again. This time a little nearer.

"Quick, Mister Rubadub, can you hide me?" said the poor March Hare.

"Jump into that soap box there," said the fairyman, "until we see what he wants. Now, children, go and open the gate and let him in."

"He sounds like a nice kind dog," said Nick. "I don't believe he'd hurt anyone."

"I should say not," said a tiny voice just then, and there sitting on a flower was Nimble Toes, the Fairy Queen's messenger. "I know this dog and he's a fine fellow, but he has no home. All he wants is to be allowed in to say 'How-do-you-do'!" said Nimble Toes.

The March Hare jumped out of the soap box as quick as a wink at these words, looking a bit ashamed of himself. "I'm glad to hear it," he exclaimed. "We rabbits must be careful of strange dogs, however, if we do lose out dignity. Open the gate, children."

So Nancy and Nick ran and opened the gate and in walked Tatters.

"Bow, wow! Howdy-do folks," he said, smiling as he showed all his white teeth. "What place is this? Are there any bones buried hereabouts?"

"I'm afraid not, sir," said Mister Rubadub.

But suddenly to the amazement of everybody, there stood a large shiny tin pan right in front of Tatters' nose. And on the pan was

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

TUESDAY
The Purpose of Discipline.
Read Jn. 17:12-13. Text: 17:19.
For their sakes I sanctify myself.

Meditation—Here is no craven monk creeping from the field of life seeking "safety first" in the cloister. He meets and overcomes the most subtle of temptations to be self-centered when rigorously subduing self. Our prayers fail of answer because they are self-centered. Our good deeds are degraded because they are not prompted by unselfish goodness but seek a more complete satisfaction. Christlike character is the goal, but his passion for the welfare of all must be our dynamic.

"Jesus was not primarily the Deed-Doer or the Word-Sayer, he was the Life-Giver."

Prayer—Gracious Lord and Master, give me grace to make Thy life my pattern and not a lesser one. Grant to me also the liberating and joy-giving love which seeks first to serve, thus surely attaining the character of one who serves. Amen.

Today's Anniversaries

1844—Rhode Island legislature formally protested against the right of congress to interfere with the domestic affairs of that state.

1851—A census of Ireland showed the population to be 6,574,375.

1891—The American Society of Authors was organized in New York city.

1909—Opening of the new Queensboro bridge across the East river, New York city.

1917—Russian workmen and soldiers demanded confiscation of the immense Romanoff possession.

1924—The German People's party declared in favor of a democratic monarchy.

1925—William J. McConnell, former governor of Idaho and U. S. senator, died at Moscow, Idaho. Born at Commerce, Mich., September 18, 1833.

Is this your BIRTHDAY

TUESDAY, March 30
If so, you are naturally religious and you always will be a prominent church member wherever you are. You are inclined to be very charitable, and this will be a great help to you in your church work.

CHIC WHIM

An interesting whim of fashion is this masculine example of the new vesties. It is made of delicately barred flannel with two pockets. Buckle and band at the back regulate the fit.

BY RUBY SHORT MCKIM

The new spring lingerie is selecting its decorative motifs from the widest possible range of design materials. Where we used to put only a wreath of tiny blossoms anything is now meet from cabbages (conventional, of course) to cartoons! A new set just unboxed was all bound round in lacquer red and further embellished with a landscape featuring red tile roofs!

So a green apple appliqued onto one's white pussy willow combination is really tame. The silk patches are in three tints as suggested, perhaps lemon yellow, chartreuse and love bird greens, or turquoise.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

A Constant Reader: Your extra weight may not continue, as is evident that it is due to your abnormal appetite resulting from the demand made upon you for nourishing the baby. The reason why nursing mothers take on weight is because they eat even more than they need to sustain two. When you eat more than you need, you get the stomach into the habit of demanding it.

It will not affect the milk if you eat less of starchy foods which are the most fattening. It will also train your stomach to be satisfied with less bulk, and your appetite will be normal again. At 26 years with a height of five feet, four inches, your weight should be about 123 to 125 pounds.

Miss L. M.—If your fingers are too stout, exercise or massage will help to reduce them. I do not think you would find that any lotion or cream would do this for you. If your hands are too stout it must mean that you are too stout all over, so a general reduction will be necessary. The condition of the hands always follows that of the body. I am sorry, but I cannot suggest anyone for the work you mention.

D. T.—I think you must refer to a tea made from saffron as a harmless thing to use on blonde hair that is losing the golden shades. Dampen the hair with the tea after you have completed a shampoo and let it dry on the hair. This is not a dye or a bleach, it is merely a little color that will be temporary in its effect.

Mary Ann.—If you can have the multiple needle treatment for the superfluous hair, it is the best thing you can do to get rid of it. Many women keep their skin cleared of this blemish by extracting the coarse or dark hairs as fast as they show on the skin. If you try this, get tweezers with blunted ends as the sharp ones clip off the hair without pulling out the root. Of course the hair grows again so you will have to repeat the process over and over.

A cream made from fine vegetable oils will not cause hair to grow. Vanishing cream has uses, but it cannot take the place of either a cleansing or a feeding cream. Vanishing cream is convenient if you are making a hasty toilet and need a cream as a powder base, or it may be used on the hands at times when you cannot have a trace of oil on them.

Mrs. D. H.—Never try to bleach your teeth yourself, and if they become discolored—even though you brush them regularly and use a suitable cleanser—the only thing for you to do is to have the dentist care for them.

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 93

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never grips, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicines and just see for yourself.

HAYMAKERS; BOXER IS KILLED IN RING

discovered and managed McCarty.

"As I look back on the circumstances," related Billy, "I can see McCarty was ordained to die that afternoon at Calgary. To begin with, the match had been called off once. There was no great interest in Pelky and the promoter didn't care to pay us our guarantee of $7500.

McCarty Approved Bout

But McCarty wanted to fight at Calgary. He used to work out there and he wanted to go back to mingle with old friends. So to please him I waived the guarantee and we went out, more for a lark than anything else.

"One of McCarty's friends was a minister. As a tribute to McCarty's this minister delivered a short sermon before the fight, while the two fighters sat in their corner. That sermon was pro-McCarty. McCarty's death, the minister said, was that one should always be prepared to meet death.

"With a wave of his hand toward McCarty, the minister said: 'Look! Here is a perfect specimen of physical manhood. Yet in a week, a day, an hour, a minute he might be taken. None of us know when his turn will come.'

"Leaving the ring he crossed to McCarty's corner and shook his hand.

"God be good to you Luther," he said. The song rang and McCarty went out to meet Pelky and his death."

Boxers Square Off

There were one or two mixes of inconsequential nature at the opening of the fight. Referee Ed Smith of Chicago separated the men. Both squared off, neither seeming any worse off so far.

There was another mix-up, a flurry of fists and Pelky's right hand was seen to reach McCarty's jaw and snap his head back. McCarty backed up several steps, then took a crouching attitude. It looked as if he were in fighting pose. But he began to drop lower and lower, his eyes rolling. He finally collapsed and fell at full length on the floor.

With McCarty's breath coming in quick gasps, Smith counted him out. His seconds rushed in and Billy McCarty, sensing tragedy, began to shout, "Get a doctor, he's cold and stiff. For God's sake get a doctor." Three doctors climbed into the ring and worked feverishly over him, but in vain. Eight minutes later, he was pronounced dead. The next day an autopsy showed the right-hand punch to the jaw, which snapped McCarty's head back had dislocated his neck and caused his death.

The men were using eight-ounce gloves; the five-ounce gloves, supposed to have been used, having been left behind, either by mistake or design.

McCarty's death was the first recorded in the ring since the adoption of the Queensberry rules.

Movie Chatterbox

Madge Bellamy, beautiful film star, is nothing if not versatile. Since signing her contract with Fox a little over a year ago, this talented young lady has played parts in nine big productions—each one of them different.

As a winsome miss of the early twenties she made her debut for Fox in "The Iron Horse." Next she was called upon to play the role of a willful little English girl in "The Dancers," which called for a complete submergence of her own charming personality.

Next she was old Lightning! Bill's daughter Millie in the Fox version of Frank Bacon's immortal play—a typical small town girl. After that she was called on to play "Tessie Button," the plucky little heroine of "Havoc" in which she gave one of the finest performances of her career.

After that she became an appealing though tough little circus waif who cast her lot with Kentucky mountaineers in "Thunder Mountain," then the lead in "The Golden Strain," as the fiery little daughter of an army commandant.

"The Dixie Merchant," another Frank Borzage production, gave her another character to portray, that of a spunky little southern girl. And now comes "Sandy," in which Miss Bellamy is called on to draw heavily from her acting experience and which promises to be the greatest role of her career.

The first tensely dramatic part of her career is the assignment which has fallen to Esther Ralston, who is playing a featured role in Paramount's "The Blind Goddess." Arthur Train's novel, which is being filmed under the direction of Victor Fleming.

Heretofore, Miss Ralston has been confined chiefly to parts containing much comedy. In "The Blind Goddess," which was made under the supervision of B. P. Schulberg, associate Paramount producer, she is seen both as a happy, carefree girl and as a woman of tragedy, prosecuting the murder of her parent.

Feature players in the cast are Jack Holt, Miss Ralston, Ernest Torrence and Louise Dresser.

Charlie Chaplin, master of mime, is beholding his wishes realized. "I'd like to be a home-body . . . of clowns told a group of friends a man around the house," the king some years ago. His confidantes believe him facetious . . . then. But now—

The wave of unrest, conjecture and speculation that once enveloped the big Chaplin mansion has blown over. No longer does one hear humors among the boulevard that Charlie is unhappy with Lita, his girl wife. Friends say that Chaplin is happy now for the first time in his life . . . happy with Lita and their baby boy. In fact, Chaplin has found so much happiness in their one child that another is on the way . . . due in Hollywood from Stockholm around the merry month of April, so they say.

Lya de Putti, the famous Hungarian screen actress who arrived in New York a few days ago, has been selected by D. W. Griffith for the role of Lady Sybil in his coming production for Paramount, "The Sorrows of Satan."

She will begin work immediately at the Long Island studio, where Adolphe Menjou, Ricardo Cortez, Carol Dempster and others of the cast are at work.

The character of Lady Sybil symbolizes feminine evil, and Mr. Griffith has devoted much time and thought recently to the selection of an actress suitable to the role. He has interviewed and tested scores, but without finding one who, he believed, was the type necessary.

When he first saw Miss de Putti, three days after she landed here, he recognized at once that she was exactly what he had visualized for the character.

That was all right for the mere physical appearance. The question then arose as to whether or not she was capable of playing the extremely difficult role. Mr. Griffith had "Variety," one of Miss de Putti's recent pictures screened for him, and, after seeing her work, said that she was a marvelous actress.

"What shall I do? I am being followed by strange men!" said Mile. Arlette Marchal, the French beauty recently brought to Hollywood from Paris to appear in pictures.

"I see them, the same men, about my house when I start away in my car. I also see them when I leave the studio," insisted the actress. "I am afraid."

The whole thing ended with a laugh, however, when two men pointed out by Mile. Marchal were questioned. They were found to be scouts from gaudy night establishments.

Mile. Marchal recently arrived in Hollywood with several wardrobe trunks of Parisian gowns, hats and novelties.

Mile. Marchal's first picture in this country is "The Cat's Pajamas," with Betty Bronson, Ricardo Cortez and Theodore Roberts.

WHAT SENTENCE DID

NEW YORK, March 30.—When James A. Garfield decided to go to college he favored Yale, but also wrote to the presidents of Brown and Williams colleges.

Yale's president made a formal reply and the president of Brown did the same. But the president of Williams took an extra second to add this line, "We shall be glad to do what we can for you."

As a result of that line, Williams college received the honor of graduating a president of the United States and having as its own president, Harry A. Garfield, son of President Garfield.

SENATOR FELLOW'S PLAN

The Register has received from State Senator Roy Fellow of San Francisco a brief statement of his re-apportionment plan. He is submitting his proposal to the eye of publicity at this time, with a frank declaration that if there is anything radically wrong with it, he wants to know it; if no sound objection is raised, Fellow says that the constitutional amendments necessary to put the plan into effect will be proposed, the circulation of initiative petitions to be started within a month from this date. The senator's statement appears in another column of this page.

Coming, as this plan does, from a legislator in one of the big cities of the state, with a proposal that a limitation be placed upon the representation that any one city may have in the legislature, the Fellow outline may be a compromise that will prove acceptable to a majority of the people of the state. Ever since the 1921 Legislature failed to allow any re-apportionment, the reason being that San Francisco and adjoining sections did not want to have their delegations reduced, there has been a strong argument from the "cow counties" of the state for a revision of the apportionment plan. At present, the constitution calls for apportionment of both Senate and Assembly strictly upon population lines. The suggestion, made first, we believe, by the San Bernardino Sun, that a plan be adopted whereby the Assembly would be apportioned on population lines and the Senate representation limited to two Senators per county, just as a state's representation in the United States Senate is set arbitrarily, met with widespread favor. That change, however, appeared too drastic to suit the big cities.

Fretting because Los Angeles has failed to secure an apportionment under the 1920 census that would have increased its power at Sacramento very materially, a few weeks ago Los Angeles groups got together and entered into negotiations with San Francisco, seeking to join with that city in a settlement of the re-apportionment difficulty, a settlement satisfactory to them, but ignoring the advisability of adopting any plan to protect the rural districts against the growing power of the cities. If anyone from Orange county or any other Southern California county outside Los Angeles was invited into the conference that prepared this plan, we do not know who he was. So far as we can learn, the plan was strictly for the benefit of Los Angeles.

Senator Fellow puts his plan on the table. He proposes a legislature of ninety assemblymen and forty-six senators; at present we have eighty and forty. Representation would be on a population basis, but no one county could ever have more than one-fifth of the membership of either the Assembly or the Senate.

He proposes that Orange county be given two Assemblymen and one Senator; Riverside, two assemblymen and with Imperial one Senator; Imperial, one assemblyman; San Diego, three assemblymen and two senators. Los Angeles would have seventeen assemblymen and eight senators, and San Francisco fifteen of one and seven of the other.

Since, at the present time, this county has but one assemblyman and is joined with Riverside and Imperial with one senator, the distribution as proposed by Senator Fellow seems to us to be fair enough to this county. We could hardly expect more. The best we had hoped for, had there been a fair constitutional apportionment in 1921, was one assemblyman and one senator. Our guess is, therefore, that if the Fellow plan does get on the ballot it will receive a much more cordial reception in this county than is likely to be accorded the Los Angeles plan.

CALIFORNIA'S NATIVE SONS

The Register desires to express its pleasure over the organization in Santa Ana of a strong parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West. With loyalty to state and nation as its watchword and betterment of government as its aim, this organization has proven an asset of great value in California.

It has been far more active in the central and northern portions of the state than it has been in the Southland. Recently, its membership in this end of the state has been increased, and that alone is bound to have good results in bringing prominent men of the state closer together in an understanding and ambition to keep California always in the paths of glory which it has followed.

The Native Sons and the Native Daughters organizations are particularly welcome in Orange county. There is much to be done in this county in the preservation of landmarks and in getting together into written form the stories of the making of this county and its communities. Their co-operation with the Historical Society of Orange County, of course, is assured.

But the work of the sons and daughters of the golden state is by no means confined to reviewing the past. Far from it. Their eyes are toward the future. They set high standards of government as their ideal, and, united, move forward. The organizations are not in any way politically partisan, but they are intensely interested in the welfare of their native state. Because of this interest, they make it a point to study and to learn, to keep in touch with the trend of events that either aid or hinder the worthy advancement of this great state.

Of 2,339 students who completed the eighth grade in San Francisco schools in January, 2,194 entered high school. That is a complete revolution of conditions of but a few years ago, when less than half the eighth grade went higher.

OLD STATE LOANS

Eastern congressmen have been jumping onto their western colleagues for demanding money for irrigation projects. It is unfair, they have argued, for the West thus to benefit at the expense of the East.

Now the West turns the tables. Representative Simmons of Nebraska has introduced a resolution asking 26 eastern states to repay money lent them by the federal government long ago, on which they have never paid any interest. Away back in 1836, it appears, a government surplus of over $28,000,000 was divided among the states, with the understanding that they should return it when Congress asked for it. Apparently Congress has been reluctant to ask.

Such a fund, if repaid with accrued interest, would build a fine irrigation project. Or another fine national highway, joining East and West. But, it is our guess, it won't be demanded.

TOURISTS' FOOD IN BULK

The Secretary of the Ontario Tourist association has estimated from a number of expense accounts of United States automobile tourists what that tribe eats while it is across the border. In the course of a year the composite tourist giant consumes 277 tons of butter; 493,000 dozen eggs; 2,956,550 quarts of milk; 98,554 bags of potatoes; 2,204 calves; 2,645 cattle; 8,795 lambs; 1,763 hogs; 9,445 sheep.

In addition to that amazing list there should be added fowl, vegetables, grains for cereal foods and bread, and domestic fruit. The estimator left out coffee, tea and chocolate bars. Perhaps they are trifles in that huge total.

It is easy to see why the automobile tourist is welcome nearly everywhere when he pays his way honestly as he goes—and that is nearly always.

Dawes' Melody in A

Stockton Independent

Now if only Vice President Dawes had consulted a "musicotherapist" he probably would have pursued an entirely different policy in presiding over the deliberations of the United States Senate. Instead of indulging in verbal battles and an effort to enforce Senate rules (or make new ones which he considers more effective) Mr. Dawes would abandon parliamentary usage and debate for his beloved "fiddle" and with his admirable "Melody in A," pour out the healing oil of music upon the turbulent waves which at times threaten to engulf the senatorial body.

A Connecticut expert in musicotherapy had declared that Vice President Dawes' "Melody in A" is sure panacea for hysteria. Seems almost as if it might be advantageously used as a sort of prelude to the daily sessions of the senate—sort of getting the whole body "tuned in" for the day's proceedings—and then no doubt there would be special compositions particularly soothing to individual members—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "I've Gwine Back to Dixie," and the "Missouri Waltz" might have a pleasant and salutary effect upon the flow of impassioned debate led by southern solons, while "The Sidewalks of New York," ought to prove efficacious for the sons of Tammany and their opponents from the grand old state. Then "We're From Iowa—That's Where the Tall Corn Grows," and "Where the Silver Colorado Flows," might also be found soothing, while "California, Here I Come," or "I Love You California," could be counted on to make our own Sam and Hiram as amiable to all their associates as the proverbial turtle doves. Think, too, how entertaining it would be to the visitors who throng the senate halls—they might be asked to join in the chorus. The plan has wonderful possibilities.

Keeps Packing Folks In

San Francisco Chronicle

Those who delight in seeing California shoot up rapidly in the population tables of the country will read with pleasure the latest estimates of the census bureau. These figures show that California is growing in population almost three times as fast as the country as a whole.

That indicates mighty good judgment in the nine hundred thousand who have come here to make their home since 1920. But California is glad to receive them in partnership. There is room for all of them and more, and abundant opportunity for a useful life under favored circumstances.

California is not without prophets who see with warmly tinted spectacles a day when the state will be the home of thirty millions. We neither expect nor wish for such a day. We are not impressed by the common comparisons between the area and population of Italy and the area and population of California, because we see that Italy supports its forty millions only at a very low standard of living. In California we expect to raise our standards of living even above our present high level. We want no California on a lowered scale of living.

But on present or higher standards, California can easily support several times the population it has now. And we shall get it. This is inevitable. If life were only a little better here than elsewhere the entire world would find it out sooner or later. As life is a great deal better here we shall probably have to begin to put up fences a couple of decades hence.

RABIES SYMPTOMS NOT EASILY SEEN
Rabies is very common in the United States and in many other countries. Not only dogs, but practically all warm blooded animals are susceptible to rabies.

Dogs, however, constitute the great danger to human beings, particularly to children because they are more liable to be bitten. There is apparently at the present time a tendency to increase in the canine population in cities, and with this increase, under present conditions, there will no doubt be an increase in the number of mad dogs. They are already far too common.

How can we tell when a dog is mad? Perhaps you think this is easy but sometimes it is not, and if you should happen to be bitten by a dog, then the question of whether or not it is mad becomes for you one of the most important things in the world. There are two types of rabies—the furious type and the mute or dumb type.

In the furious type of canine rabies the dog will bite anything which gets in its way.

The paralytic type of rabies is quite common in dogs, and dogs suffering from this type are very dangerous to human beings, because the type is so likely to be mistaken for something else and a person is bitten before he realizes that there is a possibility. Paralysis is present in the muscles of the jaw and the throat and the dog often appears to be choking.

You should always suspect a sick dog of rabies, especially if he shows a change of disposition. If the dog has rabies, the disease will manifest unmistakably in a few days. If the animal is killed in the early stages of rabies it is impossible even in the most careful laboratory examination of the brain to diagnose the case definitely. If confined and the dog remains well for two weeks, then he is not mad and the bitten person is in no danger of hydrophobia.

If the dog becomes sick and dies or is killed while sick, the head should be sent to the nearest laboratory for diagnosis. If the laboratory is some hours distance away, the head should be securely packed in ice.

All bites should be cauterized as soon as possible, preferably by a physician. For this purpose pure nitric acid is best. It may be applied with a medicine dropper, a glass rod, or the end of a match stick so as to reach all parts of the wound.

After the cauterization the patient should receive the Pasteur treatment if the dog is mad; especially in all cases where a definite wound has been made by the teeth of the animal.

Remember also that cats may have rabies, and if bitten by a cat suspected of having the disease one should adopt the same procedure as recommended for those bitten by dogs.

She Will Have Her Little Joke

Human Waste

By Charles Kingsley

We know well how, in some manufacturers, a certain amount of waste is profitable—that it pays better to let certain substances run to refuse than to use every product of the manufacture: as in a steam mill where it pays better not to consume the whole fuel, to let the soot escape, though every atom of soot is so much wasted fuel.

So it is in our present social system. It pays better. Capital is accumulated more rapidly by wasting a certain amount of human life, human health, human intellect, human morals, by producing and throwing away a regular percentage of human soot—of that thinking, acting dirt which lies about, and alas! breeds and perpetuates itself in foul alleys and low public houses, and all dens and dark places of the earth.

But, as in the case of manufacturers, the Nemesis comes swift and sure. As the foul vapors of the mine and the manufactory destroy vegetation and injure health, so does the Nemesis fall on the world of man; so does that human soot, these human poison gases, infect the whole society which has allowed them to fester under its feet.

Sad, but not hopeless. Dark, but not without a gleam of light on the horizon! For I can conceive of a time when, by improved chemical science, every foul vapor which now escapes from the chimney of a manufactory, polluting the air, destroying the vegetation, shall be seized, utilized, converted into some profitable substance, till the black county shall be black no longer, the streams once more crystal clear, the trees once more luxuriant, and the desert which man has created in his haste and greed shall, in literal fact, once more blossom as the rose.

And just so I conceive a time, by a higher civilization, formed on a political economy more truly scientific, because more truly according to the will of God, our human refuse shall be utilized, like our material refuse; when man as man, even down to the weakest and most ignorant, shall be found to be (as he really is) so valuable that it will be worth while to preserve his health, to develop his capabilities, to save him alive; body, intellect and character, at any cost; because men will see that a man is after all the most precious and useful thing on the earth, and that no costs spent on the development of human beings can possibly be thrown away.

Worth While Verse

ANSWERED SONG

The brook is singing roundelay,
As joyously as in the days
When summer woodlands heard;
Though leafless trees unanswering stand,
And none are left to praise,
In all the silent snow-wrapped land—
Only a bird.

But every glad and lifted strain
To field and wood, shall live again;
No melody, no word
Of love is lost; it's caroling
Will sound, when snow turns rain,
In feathered rhapsodies of spring—
And earth be stirred.

Meaning me, and I sed, Well G wizz, pop, holey smokes, G rooz, alem, good nie, gosh.

Yes yes, go on, pop sed.

I aint going to leave anybody call me a liar, I sed.

Well, that's a harsh word, I admit, and the Pottses have never meekly swallowed it, pop sed.

I aint going to leave Puds Simkins or anybody else call me a liar, especially Puds Simkins, I sed.

Wat brawt on the opprobrious epithet, pop sed.

Sir? I sed, and pop sed, How did he come to call you a liar?

Well, we was talking, and he started to brag about his father.

And I aint going to stand there and leave anybody brag about their father without me bragging about you, so I did, I sed.

Thank you very much, pop sed.

Yes sir, I told him you was the greatest man alive and I told him you had 3 million dollars in the bank and he called me a liar, I sed.

That was very hasty of him, altho I admit the 2nd statement you made to him contains a certain amount of exaggeration, pop sed.

Senator Fellow Offers Reapportionment Plan

Senator Roy Fellow has submitted to The Register, as well as other newspapers of the state, his plan for reapportionment of the state into assembly and senatorial districts. The senator's letter reads as follows:

San Francisco, California, March 25, 1926.

"Editor Register:—The reapportionment question is a vital one to the state and is critical at this time because a measure is being placed upon the ballot by initiative petition to redistrict the state upon a strictly population basis.

"I am writing to you regarding this matter because I feel that the question is one which is of supreme importance to your section, as well as to all other sections of the state, and it is necessary that you understand the issues involved, as early as possible.

"Also I believe that it is important for you to give the subject consideration and determine your own conclusion in regard to same so that public opinion may be crystallized.

"I have developed a counter plan of reapportionment of the state above referred to. Of all plans heretofore submitted, this one meets with greatest general support, and has least opposition. Before explaining the features of this new reapportionment proposal, I desire to set forth the effects of the reapportionment measure which has been proposed by a Los Angeles business and political group and which will be submitted to the voters.

Three Refusals

"The Los Angeles measure is being submitted because the legislature has refused to reapportion on three separate occasions. The reasons for its refusals are various, and need not enter into this at this time. The Los Angeles measure will make redistricting compulsory by putting it into the hands of a private commission, in case the legislature refuses to reapportion.

"Under the bill the redistricting would greatly increase representation of Los Angeles county in both the assembly and the senate. It gives that county 22 members of the assembly and 11 senators. However, following the 1930 census, which is but a few years away, Los Angeles county would, on the basis of its present growth, very likely be entitled to 26 assemblymen and 13 senators—one-third of both houses. In 1940 a still greater representation may be expected. This would apply also to San Francisco and any other big county that showed unusual growth.

"Herein a fundamental condition is involved, having to do with the question of whether populous centers shall have complete control of state legislative bodies to the exclusion of representation for larger geographical areas containing diversity of interests, but representing rural aspirations, but with smaller populations.

"I believe it would be bad for New York state if redistricting there were strictly on a population basis, for then New York city with its seven million population would have 80 to 90 per cent of the legislative representation. The same applies to Louisiana and other states that have refused to reapportion on a strict population basis.

"I believe that the spirit of reapportionment should be to protect the country districts and yet permit adequate safeguards for metropolitan areas.

Develops His Plan

"Following this belief I have developed a 'county limitation' reapportionment plan which has received the assurance of support from members of the farm group in the legislature, and also from leaders in civic and political activities in both Los Angeles and San Francisco. It is to be an initiative measure amending the constitution.

"This plan changes the basis of reapportionment only to the extent of placing a limitation upon the maximum strength which any county may wield in the legislature.

"Thus, the two outstanding features are:

"First: A legislature of 90 assemblymen and 46 senators. (At present it is 80 and 40).

"Second: Representation upon a population basis, with the limitation that no one county shall have more than 20 per cent control of either the senate or assembly.

"Increasing the number of members in each house permits placing a great many of the smaller districts which have not grown and also allows shuffling off of extra members on to the counties that have shown big population gains.

"Under the constitution, Los Angeles is entitled to the representation which she is to obtain under her plan. While we cannot deny her what she is entitled to under the constitution, we can propose another basis of redistricting by constitutional amendment.

"That, it seems to me, is the only plan which is left open at this time to prevent control of the legislature from drifting entirely into the hands of San Francisco, Los Angeles and other great metropolitan areas.

"This is the plan now being considered by the special committee on reapportionment formed in San Francisco by the Chamber of Commerce, legislative delegation of civic bodies. I am desirous of obtaining reactions to it from various parts of the state, always considering that it is imperative that a compromise, substitute proposal be rushed on account of the shortness of time. Initiative petitions should be put in circulation during April.

"For this reason I am submitting this substitute proposal for your perusal and trust that you will give it careful consideration. I think you will find that it is fair and just, both to cities and country.

"Yours very truly,

"ROY FELLOW."

Limitation Plan

Fellow's tentative county limitation plan is outlined by him as follows:

Features—A legislature of 90 assemblymen and 46 senators. (At present it is 80 and 40). Representation upon a population basis with the provision that no one county have more than one-fifth representation in either the senate or the assembly.

Districting upon the above basis would give the following representation:

The Assembly

No. 1—Del Norte, Siskiyou, Shasta counties; No. 2—Humboldt county; No. 3—Modoc, Lassen, Plumas, Sierra, Nevada; No. 4—Placer, Yuba, El Dorado; No. 5—Tehama, Butte; No. 6—Glenn, Colusa, Sutter; Nos. 8 and 9—Sonoma; No. 10—Marin; No. 11—Napa, Yolo; No. 12—Solano; Nos. 13, 14, 15—Sacramento; No. 16—Adamas, Calaveras, Alpine, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Mono, Inyo; Nos. 17, 18 and 19—Contra Costa; Nos. 19 and 20—San Joaquin; Nos. 21 to 35—San Francisco; Nos. 36 to 45—Alameda; No. 46—San Mateo; No. 47—Santa Cruz; Nos. 48 and 49—Santa Clara; No. 50—Stanislaus; No. 51—Merced, Madera; Nos. 52, 53, 54—Fresno; No. 55—Monterey, San Benito; No. 56—Kings; Nos. 57 and 58—Tulare; No. 59—San Luis Obispo; Nos. 60—Kern; Nos. 61 and 62—San Bernardino; No. 63—Santa Barbara; No. 64—Ventura; Nos. 65 to 82—Los Angeles; No. 83 and 84—Orange; Nos. 85 and 86—Riverside; Nos. 87, 88, 89—San Diego; No. 90—Imperial.

Senatorial Districts

District No. 1—Humboldt, Del Norte, Siskiyou, Shasta counties; No. 2—Modoc, Siskiyou, Tehama, Glenn, Colusa; No. 3—Modoc, Lassen, Plumas, Butte, Yuba, Sutter; No. 4—Sonoma and Marin; No. 5—Napa, Solano, Yolo; No. 6—Sacramento; No. 7—Sierra, Nevada, Placer, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Alpine, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Mono; No. 8—Contra Costa; No. 9—San Joaquin; No. 10—Stanislaus, Merced, Madera; Nos. 11 to 15—Alameda; Nos. 16 to 23—San Francisco; No. 24—San Matea, Santa Cruz, San Benito; Nos. 25 and 26—Santa Clara; Nos. 27 and 28—Fresno; No. 29—Monterey and San Luis Obispo; No. 30—Tulare and Inyo; No. 31—Kings and Kern; No. 32—Santa Barbara and Ventura; Nos. 33 to 41—Los Angeles; No. 42—San Bernardino, Mendocino, Imperial; No. 43—Riverside and Imperial; Nos. 44 and 45—San Diego.

The practical workout of this plan will give Los Angeles an increase of one senator and three assemblymen.

Orange county gains one senator and one assemblyman.

San Bernardino has its senatorial district reduced to its own county.

Riverside gains one assemblyman and has its senatorial district reduced to Riverside and Imperial counties.

Coming further north, Tulare county gains a senator and assemblyman.

Fresno county gains a senator. Kings and Kern counties have their senatorial districts reduced. Their senatorial districts remain as is, two senators and two assemblymen.

Alameda county gains two assemblymen and one senator.

San Francisco county gains one senator and three assemblymen.

Contra Costa county gains one assemblyman.

Sacramento county gains one assemblyman.
